This was basically all the stations in the entire state of Maine!

Surprised Judge Judy was being cleared at 6AM at this point.

WAGM was mostly a CBS affiliate by now. I don't see any ABC shows and the only NBC show I see is Days of Our Lives (I'm guessing they still aired some ABC sports programming, such as MNF)

I checked the weekend listings and WAGM aired some ABC cartoons on Saturday morning.

I couldn't really find much about 'Start of Something Big' other than it was a short lived series hosted by Steve Allen who sang the popular song of the same name. That WPGH had a pretty good Saturday lineup.

Regarding WQEX, I think this was during the period where their old black-and-white transmitter (which they had inherited from the former WENS-TV in the 1950's) finally gave up the ghost for good. They were off the air for a year or perhaps longer before returning in color with a new transmitter and a unique format that featured Britcoms, movies and continuity announcers.

WQEX was, I am pretty sure, the last U.S. television station to broadcast its entire schedule in black-and-white. I remember watching coverage of the 1984 Democratic Convention on WQEX so the transmitter apparently failed sometime after that, but before the publication date of this schedule.

According to the Wikipedia article it was around February 1985 when the Transmitter gave out for good. The station was off the air for 18 Months officially returning to the air n October 16, 1986.

Please post listings for Sunday 7/21/1985 and Wednesday 7/24/1985.

41 Movie "Meet John Doe"

A few short lived series (Bring 'Em Back Alive, 9 to 5) and some on their downward trip (Happy Days) at this point. Surprised 'Thirty Seconds' was the late movie and not 'Tora, Tora Tora!' which was still airing regularly on 12/7 at this point.

This schedule was before the startup of Topeka's current ABC outlet KTKA-49. In the early 80s, I remember seeing some notices in Broadcasting magazine about KQTV attempting to build a 2000 foot tower between St. Joseph and Topeka. It never got past the proposal stage. Tried to find some references to it by searching at AmericanRadioHistory.com, but I didn't turn up anything.

Had it been built, it would have made for a rather strange TV market.

I thought 'Men Are from Mars...' was an hour-long talk show. Also unusual seeing a Big 3 affiliate running Blind Date, and then burying it to 3AM.

NBC affiliate WKYC in Cleveland aired Blind Date in the late night hours during the show's first two seasons before the show switched over to WBNX (former WB affiliate).

Kind of odd seeing a double run of Judge Judy in the 7pm hour on a Big Three station! Also, Wheel and Jeopardy on two different stations

Kind of odd that WWAY and WBTW were not listed yet WJKA was. Did WWAY have a weaker signal than WECT?

WECT was the market leader in Wilmington and the people in the Triangle chose to watch it because of its VHF frequency, rather than tuning in to channel 28 for NBC programming. I believe that WWAY wasn't listed because of the dominance of WRAL.

Not knowing German, were any of these programs from the West or even other Soviet Bloc countries?

Most films on a Saturday night would be French, Italian or Scandinavian. Sometimes they would air an American film. On Monday they would air a movie from West-Germany to lure people to the "Schwarzer Kanal", a propaganda magazine which aired on Monday.

Wow I never would have guessed American movies aired on East German TV! What kind of movies (older ones, movies critical of American society, etc.)? Know of any titles?

Usually old Disney movies like Dumbo. Or movies made by Chaplin, Laurel and Hardy, Casablanca or critical movies. Rambo and the like were a big no-no in the GDR. (But could be seen legally on ARD, ZDF or the commercial stations)

I can also recall GDR TV showing concerts by Elvis Presley and other American artists.

Ah, Valentine's Day. A lack of love and romance on the TV that night. Mostly crime and drama. And it was on a Wednesday that year, like it will be this year of 2018. Only it will coincide with Ash Wednesday and the beginning of Lent. What will TV try then?

The Phillies, not far from Boston, were on their way to winning a World Series title on this date.

A minor note: WHDH didn't have a 5pm newscast because New England Television lost a lot of money during the regional recession of the early 1990s. In 1994, almost one year after Ed Ansin took over the station, that newscast was reintroduced, then anchored by Kim Carrigan (now at WRKO-AM).

I see WBZ didn't air any NBC daytime programming except for Days of our Lives. Their lineup was full of nothing but talk shows.

Yeah, for years they preempted most of the NBC daytime schedule and even Another World. Now, as a CBS O&O, they can't do that anymore!

I remember in the mid-90s I think it was, my grandparents got WBZ on C-Band satellite as part of a distant network package. I remember being surprised at how much they pre-empted. Not too long after, WHDH replaced WBZ for the NBC affiliate and then they did carry all the NBC shows.

A lot of Independent stations in this market at this time. I think 'Coach' had just entered syndication this season. The NBC Thursday lineup was adjusting to the end of 'Cheers' the prior season.

Some Thanks - And A Request

Firstly, BIG BIG ups to those who post the schedules every day - makes me feel old (I'm 58), but I smile when I see some of the names mentioned

Now, my request - more NYC stuff, please! I'm a Native New Yorker, born and raised in the Apple - I want to see stuff that I recognize!!

#WayOver50 - AND LOVING IT!

I like that UPN affiliate! Caddyshack followed by Caddyshack II. Good excuse to stay in the air conditioning that July day.

I'm surprised the Archdiocese of Phoenix wasn't airing a Mass for Shut Ins.

It's interesting to see how KPNX placed the early evening news and a local sports show between network programming. Could a station do this now?

I think they're on Mountain Time there....so that would be like 11PM-12AM in Eastern Time. Usually the time for a local show and either a syndicated show or other local content.

Arizona would be on the equivalent of PDT in July-3 hours behind Eastern as they don't do the "spring forward" thing

It's interesting to see how KPNX placed the early evening news and a local sports show between network programming. Could a station do this now?

The network probably wouldn't allow it today.

Since most of Arizona doesn't observe Daylight time, Sunday's prime time, 7P-11P EDT, would have fed to them 4P-8P MST, so they had to delay the whole night, anyway.

I'm guessing all of the Arizona stations did (and still do) have to do some major time shifting during the summer, since the networks aren't likely to schedule a special feed just for one state.

2-4-7-8-9-11-13 News (it's so strange that WRC, being an O&O station, preempted Super Password to air a noon newscast)>>

Yes it is odd because in later years they didn't have a noon newscast.

WRC carried "Super Password" a day behind (presumably) at 9:30 AM.

'Call to Glory' was a good show. Too bad it couldn't make it past one season.

Both TV stations in the Upper Peninsula (WLUC and then-WFRV satellite WJMN) carried Wheel of Fortune. WLUC and WKBD were on cable in most of the UP, with WWTV/WWUP getting some carriage when CBS had the NFC rights

That would be a no-no nowadays...but I'm sure the UP enjoyed getting to see it a 2nd time in case they missed the first couple of puzzles!

I noticed KPIX pre-empted The Price is Right for their own show People are Talking. Most CBS stations pre-empted the 9:00 hour of game shows so I'm surprised they didn't air TPIR at 9:00. Also, KRON didn't air Search for Tomorrow at 11:30 or any other time.

KRON preempt many NBC programming, but not like WBZ.

'Lie Detector', this iteration, lasted one season and was hosted by F. Lee Bailey. I remember watching and liking it. He had some high profile guests on there including the Howard of 'Melvin & Howard' fame. The show concluded he lied about his relationship with Howard Hughes.

'Happy Days' was in its next to last season still going through a ratings decline that began when Ron Howard left the show.

I noticed KPIX pre-empted The Price is Right for their own show People are Talking. Most CBS stations pre-empted the 9:00 hour of game shows so I'm surprised they didn't air TPIR at 9:00. Also, KRON didn't air Search for Tomorrow at 11:30 or any other time.

KPIX(a Group W station) rarely showed TPIR, until the CBS-Westinghouse merger in the '90s made ch. 5 an O & O. Even when TPIR was a half-hour show airing at 9:30, KPIX aired a different local talk show, hosted by Bing Crosby's wife, Kathryn, in that slot. Eventually,after TPIR began airing at 10 Pacific, to compete with 'Wheel of Fortune', that Crosby show was replaced by 'People Are Talking', since KPIX figured they'd rather hold onto the talk-show audience.

At the time these listings were published, TPIR was running on channel 20 in San Francisco, which was not listed (or carried on cable at that point) in Sacramento.

It's nice seeing these Sacramento/Bay Area 'mixed' listings, but I wish the 'Chronicle' archive was easier to access.

Thanks for posting ; so much has changed since the Saint Petersburg Times published this; the Times does not even carry TV listings anymore (they were pretty shoddy at best in the end), but they expect you to pay extra for a TV magazine with a glitzy cover but is pretty hollow inside; only listing about 1/3rd of the OTA channels and of course the fate of the now defunct Tampa Tribune is worse.

Just my opinion, but I think it was better when the Tampa/St. Petersburg metro areas had two competing daily newspapers; I miss that.

Have to wonder since this was the 32nd anniversary of the assassination of President Kennedy, how much of that event was covered on the news that day and interesting to note that channel 10-WTSP is still the station carrying "The Wheel of Fortune" and "Jeopardy" and in the same time slot at that!.....some things seem to go on forever !

Thanks again for taking the trouble to find and post this!

8:30 Bless This House "Neither a Borrower Nor a Landlord Be"

This very short-lived sitcom starred blue comic Andrew Dice Clay in a family-friendly role that probably made little sense

SPECIAL: 'The Great Billion Dollar Mail Case' is the first 60-minute program of the new season for 'See it Now,' which will be seen monthly at this time. Today Edward R. Murrow and his staff examine the U.S. Post Office in an attempt to explain why the Post Office department operates at an annual deficit of nearly $1 million. The four classes of U.S. mail, none of which, according to the Post Office, shows a profit, are described. The cameras follow a letter through 19 steps, as it is mailed in Manhattan to an address in Cincinnati. These operations, many of which have not changed in 100 years, are compared with the modern-and profit-making-postal systems of Holland and Switzerland.

4 12 13 Bob Hope

Special: Bob is back for another season of one-hour shows, to be seen about once a month at various times. Tonight's entertainment was filmed at Nouasser Air Base in North Africa, where Bob and company were playing before the troops on an improvised stage. Members of the company include Eddie Fisher, dancer Ann Miller, singer Gary Crosby and movie star Marie McDonald. Les Brown once again leads the orchestra. Bob opens the show with a monolog, after which he indicates his intention of doing a soft-shoe routine. Marie McDonald counters with the suggestion that they duet on a cha-cha-cha, and they go into their dance. There are two sketches, suggested, somewhat remotely, by the locale. In a takeoff on Charles Boyer, Hope plays the role of Pepsi Lacola, head of the black market in the Casbah. Marie McDonald and Gary Crosby also participate in this exotic drama. A second sketch about a sheik co-stars Eddie Fisher and Ann Miller with Bob. There will also be a special appearance on the show by Gen .Lewis Mundell.

That should be the Milwaukee Braves. The team moved to Atlanta in 1966.

Yeah, that was a mistake on my part. Sorry!

Old Western US TV schedules from the 50s are always interesting to see just how live shows from the east were played in the west. Take American Bandstand from this day's KGW ch. 8 schedule. First, was this run on a one or two day delay with the kinescope sent to the station for playback? Or, was the show recorded at ABC network control in Los Angeles, then fed to the Pacific time zone stations to run in-pattern at 4 pm? (matching the Eastern time zone pattern) I'm guessing it was the latter. Also, did all the networks have video tape available in the fall of 1957?

Another interesting tidbit: KGW only chose to run the first 30 minutes of AB, when it was a 90 min show. Looking up when ABC took the show national finds it's only been a little over two months earlier. Guess KGW wasn't ready to ditch their other programs just yet.

If anyone's wondering what 2/4/5/12/13 usually aired (as they preempted shows for the World Series):

Had I been the GM of that independent, I think I would have tried to pick up at least some of the network daytime shows that were preempted by the local affiliates. By my count, 3 1/2 hours-worth of daytime shows were preempted.

Tampa Bay would get another independent a year or so later, when WFTS 28 signed-on (December 14, 1981). They were still pretty sizable areas in the country, especially at this point in time, that still didn't have an independent station...San Antonio was the biggest market in the country without an independent station, until 1985 when KRRT (KMYS) signed-on.

Two ABC stations and neither one carried The Edge of Night at 4pm or any other time.

I didn't realize WTVT not carrying the Bold and the Beautiful in later years dated back this far with not carrying Search for Tomorrow which was replaced by Capitol in 1982. WTSP picked up Bold and the Beautiful when it switched to CBS in 1994.

Wasn't Grand Rapids bigger than San Antonio? They didn't get an independent until 1982 when now-WXMI signed on, but WUHQ (now WOTV) would have been an independent if (a) WZZM didn't have to be so far north and/or (b) Lansing had its own ABC affiliate. However, most if not all cable systems had WKBD and WGN and some may have had WFLD, WVTM, and/or WSNS

Interesting time in TV. UPN and WB hadn't begun, so the Independents were still really Independent. 'Golden Girls' had actually ended the prior May and I believe this was the next to last time it would air on NBC in Prime Time in Summer Reruns.

A lot of good TV this night. Cannon, Baretta, Starsky and Hutch and no VCRs! Hard choices to make in these days. The fact that a station was having a newscast for the deaf was pretty cool in these pre-closed captioning days.

Interesting to see that Showoffs aired an hour earlier on the three ABC stations than it did elsewhere in the Eastern time zone. Were these delayed broadcasts or did ABC feed it to them at 11?

I assume Showoffs aired on a one day delay as did many future shows ABC programmed in the noon time slot. It would have made more sense for ABC to feed the show at 11:00am and leave the noon slot open for local news or a one hour delay of Showoffs. ABC always programmed the noon timeslot without regard for many stations airing local news at that time. It is what ruined the ratings for Ryan's Hope. ABC wouldn't program the 11:00-11:30 time slot until 1977.

Please post listings for Saturday 10/25/1975 and Sunday 10/26/1975.

I question the 8pm Saturday hour of KPDX because that newscast has never been on weekends.

I checked the listings and it was listed; maybe it was cancelled later (I have no idea)

<http://media.oregonlive.com/oregonia...623%20TEMP.pdf>

Well they may have made a mistake into putting that information because KPTV has never had weekend news on KPDX until the addition this upcoming weekend.

8 49 Comeback Story

Guest: Aircraft expert Alexander R. De Seversky.

10PM

4 73 Boxing

Harold Johnson vs. Jimmy Slade. Johnson is rated 1st, 42-5 with 20 KOs; Slade is 7th, 18-8 with 4 KOs. This is a return match. Last year on January 16th, Johnson won a easy one-sided victory over Slade in this St. Nick Arena. This match will have as strong bearing on the future of the light-heavyweight division. The winner should be the most logical contender for the title which was defended on Wednesday. Johnson is a finished boxer, not in the sense that he has reached the end of the trail, but in the sense that he knows the why's and wherefore's of all the moves in boxing. He can box and punch with best in his class. Both Johnson and Slade have had their chances with Archie Moore. Slade is 0 for 0 while Johnson has one victory in 3 tries. Johnson is the son of an ex-heavyweight contender who boxed Jersey Joe Walcott, as a matter of fact, Harold himself has boxed Jersey Joe. Johnson looks like a sure winner here. He carries too much TNT for Slade.

5 27 My Friend Irma

I thought Hunt and Brinkley were already doing their news program, but I didn't see it here. That movie with Hugh Beaumont is interesting. I'm not sure I ever saw him in anything besides 'Leave It to Beaver'.

WLIO in Lima (73 -> 35) and WBGU in Bowling Green (70 -> 57 -> 27) both started in the 70-83 range before moving down the dial

I want to say Huntley & Brinkley replaced John Cameron Swayze around 1956. Also, Hugh Beaumont did a ton of B pictures before "Leave It To Beaver". (At least one of them might have been featured on MST3K, I bet.)

Here's a little info about Blonde for a Day...including some notes.

7PM

2 3 6m 13f Shakespeare Plays

'The Tempest.' The tempest that left a number of shipwreck survivors stranded on a Mediterranean island was no outburst of nature. The storm was magically orchestrated by the island's ruler Prospero (Michael Hordern), who was usurped of his dukedom many years earlier by his brother Antonio (Derek Godfrey). Now, it is in Prospero's realm-an enchanted land inhabited also by his daughter Miranda (Pippa Guard), the sprite Ariel (David Dixon) and the half-human 'thing of darkness' Caliban (Warren Clarke)-that Antonio and some treacherous companions are cast adrift, separated and controlled. Directed by John Gorrie.

4 Prescription for Life

Host Joseph Campanella explores the efforts of missionary doctors and nurses to prevent lives in Third World countries such as Bangladesh, Haiti, Cambodia and India. [Preempts regular programming - which was Dolly & Carol in Nashville. Surprising, since most of eastern ND is farmland and a lot of country listeners.]

5 6f 8d 8w 10 Real People

Scheduled highlights from the 3rd season opener include a convention honoring POWs from World War II and the Korean War; and a woman who designs bikinis for both men and women. Also: Sarah Purcell receives skating lessons from a roller-game team. [Closed-captioned]

9 Sanford & Son

11f All-Star Family Feud

Special: Regular cast members from 'Soap' and 'Eight is Enough' take on those from 'All My Children' and 'General Hospital.' Host: Richard Dawson.

11w 12 13m Dolly & Carol in Nashville

Special: Dolly Parton and Carol Burnett in concert at the Grand Ole Opry. The hour opens with an original song that introduces the duo as a mutual admiration society, then goes country with 'No One Picks Like a Nashville Picker Picks,' a Parton-Burnett duet that is backed by some fancy pickin' on guitars, banjos and fiddles. A variation of this song crops up later in a stylishly choreographed production number that subs 'kicks' for 'picks'. The headliners also team for a gospel medley that includes 'Amazing Grace,' 'Sweet By and By' and 'Let it Shine'; and harmonize on selections from 'heart' songs, such as 'Dear Hearts and Gentle People,' 'Heartbreak Hotel,' 'It's a Heartache' and 'Heartaches by the Number.'

And there's comedy: a sketch that casts Burnett as a tombo and Parton as a homebody-who grows up to steal the neighborhood guys from Carol.

17 Movie

'Branded.' (1950) Alan Ladd poses as a long-lost son to gain wealth, in an outdoor show with more plot than usual-perhaps too much. Ruth: Mona Freeman.

7:30

9 Baseball

The Minnesota Twins vs. the Brewers at Country Stadium in Milwaukee. Bob Kurtz and Larry Osterman report.

Quite clever of KMSP to put the original You Bet Your Life (as Best of Groucho) and the Buddy Hackett reboot back-to-back.

Just a quick moment to note a rare W call that the FCC let through in North Dakota, that's WDAY's semi-satellite WDAZ.

WDAY's AM sister is among the 100 oldest broadcast licenses, and received sequentially issued calls the same week in May 1922 as WDAF (KCSP) Kansas City, WDAE Tampa among others. WDAZ was a special request, much like how the FCC allowed WOW-TV Omaha to become WOWT in the 70s after TV was spun off from the radio properties.

5 CNN Headline News

Could a station delay the network morning program by two hours, as WNCT did here?

CBS likely allowed it to get the clearance (and it's actually a 3-hour delay...the show goes out live at 7:00 ET), although I think that's the latest I've seen the "Saturday Early Show"/"CBS This Morning" delayed.

To this day, the Saturday edition of "CBS This Morning" and the 2nd half-hour of "Face the Nation" are really the only two CBS shows that have any clearance issues to speak of.

As I've mentioned before, it's so strange the system this paper used to list TV schedules. Why the morning shift of some stations wasn't listed if those stations were on the air?

(3) Movie

'Divorce American Style.' (1967) Funny, hard-hitting jab at the marriage-go-round as a bickering couple (Dick Van Dyke, Debbie Reynolds) head for court. Jean Simmons, Jason Robards, Van Johnson.

(4) (5) 6 (9) 11 King of Kensington

Debut: A Canadian situation comedy revolving around the character of Larry King-contemporary Robin Hood, poker player and operator of a variety store in Toronto's ethnic Kensington Market district. In the opener, Larry (Al Waxman) tries to help an Indian man get a loan to open a restaurant in the neighborhood. Cathy: Fiona Reid. Gladys: Helen Winston. (This show would last 5 seasons and 111 episodes with good ratings.)

5 Movie

'The Court Jester.' (1956) Danny Kaye has a field day in this merry spoof of medieval England and costumed swashbucklers. Glynis Johns, Basil Rathbone.

[5] S.W.A.T.

The SWAT team plunges into its second season hot on the trail of a scuba-diving gang of jewel thieves. This two-hour season opener features extensive underwater footage filmed off Catalina Island, Cal. Comedian Phil Silvers has a dramatic role as a waterfront eccentric who aids the police. Janice: Susan Dey. Harry: Christopher George.

[8] Medical Story

An obstetrician is unwillingly drawn into the abortion controversy when he forgoes an attempt to save a 24-week-old fetus while performing a legal-and necessary-abortion. Vince Edwards, Pernell Roberts, Dane Clark.

9:05

9 Movie

'The Woman Hunter.' (1972) Made-for-TV suspense yarn about a socialite's involvement with an international thief. Filmed in Acapulco. Barbara Eden, Stuart Whitman. Jerry: Robert Vaughn.

2 4 7 8 Maclear

Return: A second season of personal journalism by ACTRA Award winner Michael Maclear. The opener, titled 'Chayita-And the 500 Million,' focuses on the world's orphaned and abandoned children. Some 500 million children, according to this report, live between destitution and death in 60 countries. Their plight-and how it could be alleviated-is personalized through the story of Chayita, a little girl who was abandoned but has found a home in an orphan's village run by Sister Maria Rosa in Honduras. Maclear talks to Sister Maria Rosa and to other persons involved in the children's cause. He also comments on the need for greater international effort in behalf of the children.

(4) 6 (9) 11 Pallisers

Silverbridge stands for Parliament as a Conservative; and Glencora promises to inform Plantagenet of Lady Mary's secret engagement. Anthony Andrews, Susan Hampshire. Plantagenet: Philip Latham.

Hmmm... I keenly recall WLNE signing off just like the other Providence stations around this time...
Maybe it was only on weekends, I don't know...

I also thought WHLL/27 would be airing the episodes of "Another World" that WBZ/4 was bumping around this time, too...

1988 was a little before my time there, but when I worked there in the early 1990's we tape-delayed "Days Of Our Lives" by one day and scrounged other NBC programming bumped by WBZ. The next year we took ABC fare bumped by WCVB. So I suppose it's very possible they were picking off NBC programs in the late 80's.

1:00 Late Show

Did any other stations move the Late Show to a later time from 11pm ET/10pm CT or not air it at all?

Odd how WLNE specifically pre-empted Bold and the Beautiful with syndicated programming. Most stations only pre-empted it if they had an hour of local news with Y&R at 1pm.

Why would WNEV be airing these programs at 10am that used to air on ABC in the 11am ET time period?

The WGPR calls were an error, once CBS took over in late 1994 the calls changed to WWJ-TV. The Blade likely never updated the call letters. They never really did have local news except for a brief period where a 30 minute broadcast, produced by Channel 50 aired at 11PM and then the also short lived 'First Forecast Mornings' that aired in 2008-2010. A 3 minute local weather forecast is all they have that's locally produced. It's interesting that both Headline News and Court TV built awareness of their cable brands by airing syndicated programming over broadcast television. I wasn't aware that Headline News was still producing the syndicated show as late as 1996.

I'm sure Fox didn't appreciate having their programming bumped for Pistons basketball. Might've played a role in that moving to cable soon thereafter.

When I lived in the Detroit area circa 1990, WKBD carried the Pistons and Red Wings.

Fox programming got bumped a LOT.

At the time the Tigers were on WDIV but I believe they made the move to Channel 50 at some point too.

By 1996, KBD had dropped Fox for UPN. The irony is that WWJ-TV's former sister station WWJ is an all-news AM station

At this point, WKBD was entering season two of Tigers baseball that spring; 1995 was their first season on 50. It just seemed kinda amazing that the Tigers lasted on WDIV for as long as they did, considering you already had two established indies (WXON and WKBD) on the air by the time Channel 4 took over in 1975; then again, for a long time, other major NBC affiliates (St. Louis and Cincinnati being prominent examples) bumped network primetime for local baseball anyway.

I meant UPN ftblIfan, thanks for catching that. I have to think that the Tigers paid off for WDIV for those years, at least more so than carrying the network programming would've.

'Cannon' was in its last season at this point. I think the show that followed, 'The Blue Knight' lasted only one season.

No Ryan's Hope in it's second year on WITI and no Search For Tomorrow on WISN.

Just a year later (almost to the exact day) from these listings, these two stations swapped networks, with of course WISN still remaining with ABC to this day. When I lived in Milwaukee in the 80s as a kid, WISN was pretty good about clearing network programming, when compared to WITI and WTMJ; for many years, WISN aired All My Children at 11am, on an one-day delay, because they aired news at noon (still to this day), and a syndicated show at 12:30pm. Whatever ABC aired in the noon ET/11am CT/PT slot at the time was either bumped to another station or didn't air at all in Milwaukee.

Retro: St. Petersburg, Fla. February 18, 1974

Double post.

The St. Petersburg Times TV listings had adapted to widespread coverage, with the Tampa/St. Pete channels on a separate page. They also used the channel bullets and an abbreviation of the city of broadcast. I have efforted to translate those channels into their calls and cities.

Suncoast Digest was hosted by Christine Chubbuck, who shot herself to death live on air not 6 months after this day's schedule.

And another error by yours truly: Channel 4 in Jacksonville should be WJXT. WJAX is the current CBS station there, on channel 47.

Surprising that 'The Ten Commandments' was airing so far in advance of Easter.

Now the Times doesn't even bother to print any TV listings; the Times (like many other newspapers) at an extra charge will include a TV magazine that supposedly is geared to the local market, but it's useless if you want the listings of any of the subchannels (Me TV, Antenna TV, MOVIES!, LAFF, My TV etc) ; perhaps they aren't aware of cable cutters who are watching tv OTA.

The Times used to have great descriptions for TV programming, but I always disliked its grid style. It was very difficult to understand.

Even back in 1974, WTVT had an hour of news at noon? Of course they were pre-empting Y&R at this time. Years later they dumped Search for Tomorrow and never did air Capitol or Bold and the Beautiful.

Yes, these grids!

Egads, with the VCR Plus codes!

I forget which Tampa Bay newspaper it was (it have been the Tampa Tribune), but one of them used to include each station's numerical logo in the TV grid. I thought that was cool.

Meet the Press aired at 6pm. That sounds rare today!

MTP aired live on Sundays at noon ET for many years, with some affiliates delaying it to the afternoon when there was no sports conflict. IIRC, it moved to 9 AM ET after Tim Russert took over the show in the early 1990s.

WKEF's 6:30 am "newscast" at the time was simply a long-form weather forecast. Sinclair was much too cheap to expand WKEF's news department at the time, and only did three newscasts: 6pm, 10pm on WRGT, and 11pm.

Did Sinclair have WKEF by 1998? I worked there briefly in 1996 and they were still separate from 45 then. I seem to remember an hour newscast at 6am but could be wrong. With WHIO 7 being the behemoth it was and still is in news, and WDTN making inroads, WKEF was the "little station that sorta could".

Yeah, WKEF and WRGT merged operations by 1998. NBC News at Sunrise aired at 6am and a longform weather forecast aired before The Today Show. It was gone by 2002, my schedules reflect Martha Stewart Living, First Business and later infomercials airing in that slot.

Did the Enquirer not include PBS members at the time?

Pretty certain they did, but for some stupid and asinine reason, the OP doesn't like PBS listings. You gonna have to ask him why...

5 Good Day!

I wonder what "Paid TV Movie: Think Dirty" means?

Those movies belong to the Preview subscription service, which WSMW was affiliated with.

Ahhhh, that makes sense. Like 'ON-TV' and 'IT-TV' in Detroit. Thanks for the clarification.

36 WATL Ind Atlanta

9:00 Tattletales

9:30 New $25.000 Pyramid

At that time, WATL had Tattletales and $25,000 Pyramid bicycled to them on a week delay, presumably because they had no access to CBS's transmissions. And many times, they'd repeat a week of shows several times because of tapes that didn't get delivered to them. They had access to NBC as Sale Of The Century and Just Men! didn't get repeated.

Remarkable that WSB would carry the syndicated HLN product when WTBS, owned by the same company, was a direct competitor.

They did that for many years, until ABC World News Now began.

A minor question: why both CBS and NBC eliminated its 1pm ET/12pm CT affiliate break and replaced it with other programming?

WTVT ran "Search For Tomorrow" on a delay as their noon news ran an hour. They'd been doing that for awhile, only they'd delay the 12 Noon show because of local news. They didn't clear "Young & the Restless" and obviously wouldn't till later. WFLA appears to be running NBC's noon show in pattern and going with local at the 1 PM break.

Noted missing listing on channels 10 and 40: "The $10,000 Pyramid" at 2 PM.

2 Saga of Western Man C

Kirk Douglas narrates 'Cortez and the Legend.' This dramatized documentary re-creates Spanish conquistador Hernando Cortez' conquest of Mexico in the early 16th century. In November 1519, Cortez marches into Tenochtitlan, capital of the Aztec Empire. The emperor Montezuma welcomes the Spaniards, believing them to be descendants of the exiled priest-god Quetzalcoati. Cortez seizes the opportunity for conquest: he holds Montezuma as a hostage and plans to rule Mexico through a puppet regime. Filmed on location on Mexico, the program covers Cortez' battles at Tabasco, Tlaxcala, and Tenochtitlan. Cameras view ruins and relics of the once-flourishing Aztec civilization.

2 Avengers C

All is not A-OK with the British Venusian Society, a group of amateur astronomers who are literally dying to send up their own satellite.

6 23 25 American Image C

Producer-director Frank DeFelitta created this powerful but sensitive examination of American art and its portrayal of American civilization. Interviews with artists and imaginative film techniques show how artists have expressed the American image, in paintings and photographs, from the time of Colonial painters John Singleton Copley and Gilbert Stuart to Andrew Wyeth, Robert Indiana and Andy Warhol. Historic films and footage of present-day American life serve as counterpoint to the artists' vision. E.G. Marshall's narration is supplemented by poetry and folk songs that also reflect the American image. Filmed at artists' studios, New York's Whitney Museum of American Art and private galleries.

I know it was summer, but I find the airing of 'Taps', a ten year old movie, in primetime by Fox to be curious.

Maybe not a FOX movie? WNYW is listed as showing a moive called "Bachelor Party" at 8PM.

It was indeed non-network. Fox didn't program Tuesday nights until January of 1993.

I suspected that might be the case. Thank you for clarifying this.

ER was premiering. Would've been hard to know then how much of a hit it would become.

WLYH was the only station in these three markets to clear Richard Dawson's second stint as host of Family Feud

He didn't really catch on with that stint. He probably should never have left the show to begin with.

Did you know that all prime-time programming and first-run syndicated programming were pre-empted by the 9/11 local or network News Coverage, and that the movie that was supposed to air on UPN, "Set It Off" was pushed back to Friday, September 28, 2001 because of that? On a side note, WTTE resumed it's normal programming except for first run syndicated programming the next day (9/12/2001), WWHO followed the day after that, it wouldn't be until September 17, when WCMH, WSYX and WBNS would resume their normal programming.

Was WTTE completely local in daytime? I seem to recall as a young kid they went to Fox News coverage with Shepard Smith and Linda Vester in primetime... and simulcasted FNC's primetime lineup (Fox Report, O'Reilly and Hannity&Colmes)

Was WTTE completely local in daytime? I seem to recall as a young kid they went to Fox News coverage with Shepard Smith and Linda Vester in primetime... and simulcasted FNC's primetime lineup (Fox Report, O'Reilly and Hannity&Colmes)

Some Fox affiliates did that during the 9/11 attack, like WTTE for example, I think I might have understood,

during September 12-14, 2001,

I think it went like this....

Tell me if you think that's the case..

The telenovela that starred Erik Estrada. It was so popular that it had to be extended beyond the original end date and rerun a number of times.

Re: Retro: Boston/Manchester/Providence Mon, July 4, 1994

When did Boston Pops begin on CBS? Now that it's not being carried nationwide, I remember that it was on every year for several years in the 2000s.

And for local fireworks shows, there's barely NOTHING on this listing! Nothing in Providence, not even WMUR simulcasted WCVB's fireworks!

His show was cancelled by that point; the final original episode aired May 24th, and even then, more and more of his stations (many of them affiliated with CBS or Fox) dumped him for David Letterman, Jon Stewart (Arsenio's replacement in syndication by Paramount), and even Chevy Chase that previous fall.

6 7 News, Weather, Sports

10 13 Lawman

Deputy McKay arrives in town, bloody and blind-folded. Outlaw Cole Reese has given him instructions for Troop-telling him how to get Lily Merrill back alive. Troop: John Russell. McKay: Peter Brown. Reese: Paul Comi.

6:30

2 3 11 Daniel Boone C

Detroit Lion Alex Karras makes his TV acting debut in 'The Cache.' Josh is headed for Kentucky's highest hanging tree unless Daniel nails the poaches who framed him for murdering a trapper and hiding his pelts. Josh: Jimmy Dean. Williams: Alex Karras.

6 7 12 Family Affair C

'Number One Boy.' French faces competition from a foreign import when Ng Ho, Bill's efficient and ambitious servant from Hong Kong, moves into the Davis domicile-lock, stock and chopsticks. French: Sebastian Cabot. Bill: Brian Keith. Ng Ho: Benson Fong.

10 13 Jacques Cousteau C

Special: 'The Desert Whales,' telecast in October to wide critical acclaim, is rerun. Cousteau and the men of Calypso study the California grey whale as it migrates from the arctic to breeding grounds in Baja California. Dr. Ted Walker of the Scripps Institution joins the expedition to learn more about ways to save the 30-ton mammals from extinction. Film highlights include courtship and mating of the greys, a diver's short-lived ride on a grey and efforts of the men to save a calf stranded on a sand bar. Rod Sterling and Cousteau narrate.

7PM

6 7 12 Jim Nabors C

Jim's guest is Bobbie Gentry. In sketches, Bobbie (as sexy Delta Dawn) schemes to marry Beau Weevil (Jim), heir to a large plantation; the Brothers-in-Law try to rig a foolproof burglar alarm. Finale: the cast offers a musical salute to mountain country. Frank Sutton, Ronnie Schell, Karen Morrow, Nabors Kids, Tony Mordente dancers. Southern medley: 'Stars Fell on Alabama,' 'Jackson,' 'Alabamy Bound' (Jim, Bobbie); 'Greyhound Goin' Somewhere' (Bobbie).

2 3 11 Ironside C

'L'Chayim.' Ironside tries to recover a priceless Torah stolen from a vandalized synagogue. The danger is that the thieves will destroy the ancient scroll once they discover it's of value to no one but the members of the small congregation. Rabbi Farber: David Opatoshu. Jim Trannon: Shelly Novack.

10 13 Bewitched C

8PM

6 7 12 Movie

'Ten Little Indians,' (1965) the Agatha Christie mystery classic. Eight disparate strangers are summoned to a remote Alpine castle, where a recorded voice informs them they will not leave alive. A remake of the 1945 film 'And Then There Were None.' Hugh O'Brian, Shirley Eaton, Leo Genn.

10 13 Tom Jones C

Last of six shows taped in Hollywood. Guests: Glen Campbell, Janis Joplin and the Committe, comedy troupe (appearing in sketches about automatic elevators, graffiti and life-sized talking dolls). Jack Parnell orchestra. Highlights: 'Someday Soon,' 'The Impossible Dream' (Glen), 'Little Girl Blue' (Janis), 'Didn't We?', 'In the Midnight Hour,' 'You Came a Long Way from St. Louis,' 'My Girl Maria,' 'Raise Your Hand' (Tom, Janis), 'Land of 1000 Dances' (Tom), 'I Want to Thank You' (Tom, Glen).

8:30

2 3 11 Dragnet 1970 C

The police mount a rolling stakeout to nab robbers burglarizing businesses in the north end of town. The only clue is a bizarre trademark left hanging on the doors: a red cloth marked with an 'X'.

9PM

2 3 11 Billy Graham Crusade C

Special: Evangelist Billy Graham sermonizes on 'The Future Life-Heaven or Hell' in this taped segment of his October Southern California Crusade. Guests include singers Norma Zimmer and George Beverly Shea. Cliff Barrows directs the Crusade Choir.

10 13 It Takes a Thief C

Alister Mundy (Fred Astaire) has triple trouble: thwarting the assassinations of himself and son Al, squelching an enemy threat on the U.S. economy and keeping a lady columnist off base as she probes his affinity for high-level thievery. Al: Robert Wagner.

How can the Falcons be subject to blackout on 5 but not 12?

Maybe the game was played on Atlanta.

Given that the 49ers and Falcons were divisional rivals at the time (in the old alignment of the pre-2002 NFC West), and San Francisco (along with Dallas) basically ruling the NFC in the mid-90s, it was should have been a sellout. By the way, Atlanta won the game 27-24, on a game-winning field goal. As far as WDEF (12) and blackouts, Chattanooga to Atlanta is about 115 miles, with the southernmost portion of the Chattanooga market fully within the 75-mile radius of the Georgia Dome.

I just looked up the box score of that game; attendance at the Georgia Dome was 64,668 for the game

(regular seating capacity at the time was 71,228 for football, a difference of about 6,560 seats). Especially given it was the 49ers, it's possible WAGA may have bought the remaining tickets to air the game locally. However, it could also be one of those instances where the total seating capacity of the Dome also included the premium/luxury seating, which actually never counted against the old blackout rules.

It was actually the second-highest attended Falcons home game that year; their week 12 matchup versus Dallas drew just over 67,300 fans. The '93 Falcons season was also Jerry Glanville's last as a NFL head coach (he was fired by the end of that season), and two of the Falcons' best players at the time, Deion Sanders and Andre Rison fled for San Francisco and Cleveland, respectively. Rison's one-year stay in Cleveland had played a role in the original Browns departing for Baltimore, because then-team owner Art Modell had to borrow money to give Rison for his signing bonus, he (being the landlord of Cleveland Municipal Stadium) lost revenue when the Indians got their new ballpark around the same time, thus having to take the big money offer from Maryland and Baltimore to re-locate.

Thank you for this clarification

Were the "blackout" rules abolished?

They were "suspended" beginning with the 2015 season. They haven't officially abolish it, but it's pretty unlikely that the NFL will bring it back.

No 'America's Most Wanted' on Fox this night. I wonder why? CBS aired a Winter Olympics Preview. Little did they know the drama that would ensue the following month with the TOnya Harding nonsense.

Fox ran America's Most Wanted on Tuesday nights during the 1993-94 season. They paired it with Cops on Saturday nights beginning in the Fall of '94.

SPECIAL: Does the Mafia, an Italian Secret Society, mastermind organized crime in America? This 30-minute program explores that question. It chronicles the history of the Mafia, with its roots in Sicily, and of major crime in the U.S. The live narration is by Frank McGee, of NBC's Washington news staff. There are interviews with law-enforcement leaders, including Los Angeles Police Chief William H. Parker, Chicago Crime Commission Director Virgil Peterson and Federal Narcotics Division and New York City crime-fighting officials. Among past and present underworld figures seen in newsreel clips are Albert and Tony Anastasia, Vito Genovese, Frank Costello, Willie Moretti, Joe Adonis, Tony Accardo, Lucky Luciano, Al Capone, 'Legs' Diamond, John Dillinger and Vincent Gigante. There are also sequences showing the late Sicilian bandit Salvatore Giuliano.

That boxing match at 6PM must've been syndicated. 'Highway Patrol', another syndicated program ran in prime time. A really great series!

Looking at the special about the Mafia...Vincent Gigante became quite well-known many years later during his murder and racketeering trial. Hoping to be ruled incompetent to stand trial, he took to doing things like walking around in a bathrobe and talking to himself. The New York tabloids soon dubbed him "The Oddfather".

KOTI/KBES were primary CBS affiliates, but did carry programming from all four networks. Perhaps they took the NBC line since a boxing match would get a lot of viewers.

I take it KVAL channel 13 didn't sign on until 9 AM and KPIC/channel 4 didn't sign on until 10 AM as NBC had programming going between 8 and 10 and KPTV/channel 12 cleared all four shows (13 clearing two). Also presuming that channel 12's airing of Ruff & Reddy at 3:30 PM is a tape or kinescope delay from the previous Saturday morning.

And no one aired Today with Dave Garroway. Just a year before KPIC/KVAL were signing on at 11AM.

I think NBC aired baseball on Saturday 8/23, so no Ruff & Reddy. The preemption to 3:30 Friday kind of reminds me of what stations do nowadays when their E/I programs are preempted. Except they usually put them on Sundays or the next Saturday.

Doesn't look like any of the NBCs ran the Tonight show, either. Would have thought tape-delay for the West Coast had fired up by August of 1958, but it seems not.

Jack Paar aired on KPIC/KVAL, but apparently not this night. Portland did NOT clear it. If I don't lose the bid, there's yet another Oregon TVG I might get next week. It's from December 1958. Too bad I don't have any from the '60s, to see when Portland finally cleared the Tonight Show, and whether it was late in Jack Paar's run or when Johnny Carson took over in 1962. KGW swapped affiliations with KPTV in April 1959 and is still an NBC station almost 60 years later.

The late August 1958 primetime network schedule here bore little resemblance to the summer 1958 nighttime schedule. (per Wikipedia) By late August, I'm just going to have to assume things were in a state of flux in general in the last few weeks of the 57-58 season, so I'm not even going to try to make sense of it.

The daytime scheduling pattern was easier to discern but still all over the map it seems. Not only did Today not make the cut, neither did Captain Kangaroo or anything that aired before 10 AM in the east.

The NBC stations ran the morning schedule two hours behind the Eastern pattern. When it came to the hour long break for the Central time zone noon lunch hour. (1 PM ET), NBC skipped brunch in the west and took the live feed from New York. Truth or Consequences aired at 2 PM Eastern, and 11 AM Pacific time here.

CBS ran two hours behind pattern for the Eastern time zone for the whole day. Arthur Godfrey ran at 11 AM ET, it ran here at 9 AM Pacific. Edge of Night ran at 4:30 ET, it ran here at 2:30 PT.

And the pattern for ABC: one hour behind Eastern. There is only one ABC affiliate here, Portland's KGW-TV channel 8, so it's harder to know if this was the pattern for the entire Pacific time zone, but American Bandstand ran at 3 PM here, while in the east it ran at 4 PM ET. There was no ABC daytime programming for the 1957-58 season before 3:30 Eastern and Who Do You Trust, which aired here at 2:30 Pacific.

The NBC stations ran the morning schedule two hours behind the Eastern pattern. When it came to the hour long break for the Central time zone noon lunch hour. (1 PM ET), NBC skipped brunch in the west.....CBS ran two hours behind pattern for the Eastern time zone for the whole day.....And the pattern for ABC: one hour behind Eastern.

Everything aired here one hour earlier than in Cali, because Oregon was not on DST. NBC and CBS being "two hours behind the Eastern pattern" is correct, because the west coast feeds out of L.A. were one hour behind ET (or in the CT time pattern). ABC then ran a "clock time" daytime, where a 4:00 ET show aired at 4:00 CT and 4:00 PT. (MST? Don't ask!)

CBS News with Douglas Edwards at 5:15 PST was the 6:15 PT west coast feed on tape from TV City.

The NBC boxing broadcast at 6:00 PM PST was the "Gillette Cavalcade of Sports" which aired at 10:00 ET--so it aired LIVE! in Oregon.

Gee, I hope Florida knows what it's getting into, if they con Congress into letting them stay on DST year-round! In the winter, prime time (8-11 PM ET) will be on from 9 PM-midnight. Your late local news at 12 AM. Network evening newses at 7:30. Today Show (and the other two) will air 8-10 AM.

Retro: Greeley CO, Sunday, March 11, 1956

Because of the poor quality microfilm image available, the pdf reader function had a lot of hiccups, so I'm posting the images instead. The Greeley Tribune printed both radio and TV schedules. KLZ, KVOD, KOA and KIMN were Denver radio stations. KFKA and KYOU were Greeley stations. All of the TV stations were Denver. None of them have the same calls or network affiliations today. KTVR = Independent, KOA-TV = NBC, KLZ-TV = CBS, KBTB = ABC

Pretty quiet Thursday just before Christmas. I don't think Jerry Seinfeld announced the end of his show at the end of this season until January, 1998. NBC had Prime Time locked up and I think the other networks weren't counterprogramming too aggressively against them.

Retro: 62 years ago...Greeley CO, March 12, 1958

You might notice that not only was it 62 years ago, it was also Monday March 12th in 1956 as well. Also, a number of the shows on daytime TV were still broadcast on radio as well. Click on the thumbnails and enlarge you browser screen for best results. In case you're wondering, prime time in the Mountain time zone was 5:30 - 9 PM. Local news ran at ten, however.

Is this from 1958 or 1956? Your subject line says 1958, but 62 years ago would be 1956.

1956 is correct...head is flu addled!

So, WUAB was still carrying the Cavaliers at this point. Situations like this probably had a negative impact on UPNs rollout in the early seasons of the network.

Later this year, Disney would buy ABC. They were the top rated network then, but it was because they were in the sweet spot of a lot of long time shows and they fell really hard, really quickly after that.

Last season for Matlock which had already moved from NBC to ABC.

'Once and Again' which premiered this night, was a really good show that just couldn't catch on. ABC was too weak to provide it with any really good lead in which might have helped it build an audience. ABC was riding the 'Millionaire' wave at this point, but that show had just started the month before. 'Once and Again' just didn't get to last long.

8 Movie

Ch. 8 Playhouse: 'They Were Expendable.' (1945) Story of the men who manned the torpedo boats and battled the Japanese in the Philippines during World War II. John Wayne, Robert Montgomery, Donna Reed.

11PM

4 13 Movie

Saturday Cinema: 'The Human Monster.' (1940) A deranged physician becomes involved in an insurance-policy racket. Bela Lugosi.

I'd love to see August 25 to see the description of Concentration on its debut.

That would be interesting. Concentration was one of my favorite game shows as a kid.

Today, I fear the reviews of Concentration would be much more harsh. Our collective attention span has been whittled away.

Crainbebo mentions that Channel 8 KGW-TV, the Portland ABC station, only signs on at 12:15 pm. That's late for a network affiliate in a city the size of Portland. But what were ABC affiliates to do outside the biggest markets? On Saturday ABC only provided programming starting in the late afternoon, unless it had a sports event to show.

The ABC stations in NYC, LA and Chicago did a lot of their own shows during the daytime, kiddie shows, cooking, fashion, whatever they could think of that wouldn't cost much. There were not a lot of reruns to choose from in the late 50s. If you had rights to The Cisco Kid, Life of Riley, or the handful of filmed off-network reruns, you probably ran it later in the day.

Also note that Channel 6 KOIN-TV doesn't bother to run CBS's People Are Funny (I guess that was a nighttime version of Art Linkletter's show) at 9:30pm. That's where it runs its late news (at least it HAD late news on a Saturday) followed by a double movie.

It seems everyone is off the air by 12am or 12:30, even though it is Saturday night.

Almost no one was on the air past the late movie until cable TV caught on!

People Are Funny was Art's answer to Truth Or Consequences. Where his House Party was an interview show with a smidgen of audience participation, People Are Funny was straight audience participation.

WSSN UPN 10 was only listed on the converter guide.

Please reply to this thread or via message

if you have a WSSN UPN 10 schedule listing from that time period.

WSSN UPN 10 I think carried the other Disney syndicated shows

These are great TV listings. There aren't many Indy listings posted here. Thank you for posting it.

From TV Guide:

WLFI 18 CBS Lafayette

7:00 Wheel of Fortune

7:30 Jeopardy!

Correction - WLFI had Jeopardy! at 7:00 and Wheel of Fortune at 7:30 during this time.

WMCC wasn't even two years old at this point. The station eventually became what is now WNDY. Terre Haute always had a marginal ABC affiliate.

From 1995-2011, WBAK (later WFXW) was a Fox station and returned to ABC in 2011 and became WAWV.

Ray Combs was all over TV at this point. He was hosting Family Feud for CBS and for syndication at this time.

Also, I didn't know Super Sloppy Double Dare was syndicated (and very unusual to see it on a Big Three affiliate!)

You'll notice the Indianapolis stations were tape delaying shows across the board to keep the Eastern time zone schedule. WTHR was airing the NBC soaps on a one day delay with a very off pattern schedule. WLFI in Lafayette chose to keep the primetime shows 8-11pm, but air the daytime shows on a Central time zone schedule.

IIRC, those stations did that until the mid-2000s.

I worked at WLFI from 1992-1994, and we had a consistent day and night schedule year round by then. The only thing that was on a Central Time schedule when the rest of the country was on DST was live sports and some Saturday morning shows.

Please post listings for Saturday 6/17/1989 and Sunday 6/18/1989.

From 1995-2011, WBAK (later WFXW) was a Fox station and returned to ABC in 2011 and became WAWV.

I lived in the Terre Haute market from early 1992 until early 1995 before WBAK switched. Very low budget operation, but they still got some notoriety when they refused to carry 'NYPD Blue' when it first aired. I recall them having one local show with a host I thought was very talented. Her first name was Kristi, but I cannot recall her last name. I returned to the area for awhile in 1996 and the switch had been made by that point. WTHI has always been the 800 pound gorilla in that market both on TV and on radio.

From what I've seen and heard, it sounds like for about the first 25 years of its history, WTWO's budget wasn't much better (it signed on in 1965), as someone who posted these FB videos has mentioned in the background info (plus you can tell in the some of the videos):

WTWO News opens over the years: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=nhltd0YWh1M>

WTWO news open the day of the Challenger explosion (1/28/1986):
<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=W6qY3vTgogM>

Compare with WTWO ca. 1990 opening: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=SlEc-0DUck0>

And 1994: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=neFhA6jRR5A>

Always been fascinated (even though it's a result of Channel 2's allocation being moved out of my area--Springfield, IL) that having channel 2 at both St. Louis (KTVI) and Terre Haute (WTWO) could be pulled off. But it is a 169-mile straight line "as the crow flies" between their respective transmitter sites in Sappington, MO and Farmersburg, IN. But that straight line goes through a lot of underserved "white areas" where OTA reception was and still is difficult. Especially in the Vandalia, Effingham, and Flora areas. However, most cable systems in those areas have still offered KTVI or WTWO over the years. In fact, St. Elmo, IL (Fayette County--St. Louis DMA) for years was served by the cable system in nearby Altamont (Effingham County--Champaign/Decatur/Springfield DMA), which for years offered Terre Haute stations in addition to the the in-market C/D/S stations. Including WTWO on Channel 2--even within parts of the St. Louis DMA in St. Elmo. In addition, Clay County, IL (Flora) IIRC bounced between being part of the St. Louis and Terre Haute DMAs and their Channel 2's.

Since then, Mediacom has split the Altamont and St. Elmo lineups and IIRC St. Louis now gets all St. Louis stations including KTVI--while Altamont (as well as Effingham) carries only mostly Champaign/Decatur/Springfield stations. With the Terre Haute stations dropped.

Altamont/Effingham: https://mediacomtoday-lineup.com/lin...ake_sara_.aspx

WTWO still has issues today. They didn't go HD until 2009 when it was mandatory and just began HD newscasts in Fall 2016. Last July, they had some sort of transmitter failure that left them off the air along with WAWV. Since then they broadcast on a temporary transmitter at 29kw of power with WAWV ABC on their second subchannel. WAWV came back on the air at 1kw of power last month with ABC, Grit, and Bounce channels. The area has been without subchannels Laff and Escape on 2.2 and 2.3 for months. When the new transmitter is back up and going (no word when it will be), they are to add Cozi TV on 2.4...

[QUOTE=Tim from Springfield, IL;6197233]From what I've seen and heard, it sounds like for about the first 25 years of its history, WTWO's budget wasn't much better (it signed on in 1965), as someone who posted these FB videos has mentioned in the background info (plus you can tell in the some of the videos):

WTWO was quite competitive in the late 80's and very early 90s. They seemed to be closing the gap somewhat with WTHI, but then WTHI added Patrece Dayton with their longtime anchor and that newscast just clicked throughout the Valley. Even with the strong NBC lineup throughout the 1990's, WTWO couldn't regain any momentum. They had a small budget compared to WTHI, that is for sure.

I have to say that WMCC had a pretty good lineup for a small station being independently programmed! WTTV, in the 90s, had their Saturday movies hosted by Shana Kelley, who later went on to anchor for WISH. They'd play some real hidden gems in that slot.

We had WTTV on cable on the Illinois side of the Terre Haute market in the 80s and 90s. The reception sometimes was lousy on the cable system but was usually watchable. It was one of my favorite stations growing up. It gave us some variety on programming that we didn't get from only having 2, 10, and 38 in the Terre Haute market. We also had WTVW from Evansville as well.

WTTV and WXIX (Cincinnati) were carried via microwave link to a lot of cable systems in Ohio and Indiana (likely other states). That was the time before we had satellite delivery.

There were lots of those regional superstations in the early days of cable, before (a) stations got super protective over their turf, (b) more cable networks started up, and (c) more independent stations signed on.

For example, WKBD covered most of Michigan as well as parts of Ohio and Wisconsin, WTTV covered a lot of Wisconsin and some of Michigan, KMSP covered all of Minnesota and most of the Dakotas, KPLR had downstate Illinois and most of Missouri, and KSHB got into Iowa, and that's just the Midwest!

Wally George still at it in 1994! ABC still had TGIF! Good times.

Albeit barely at this point...he stopped doing original episodes about a year or so before; from then on in, until his deteriorating health precluding him from doing so, he did a daily show with highlights from the old show, peppered in with editorials on the day's events.

WMUR used to have 4pm news before?!

Yes, but only for a few years. Oprah replaced it in 2001.

Wow. You learn something new every day. I had no idea about that.

To be sincere with you, I didn't know about that 4pm newscast until two days ago.

You learn something new when you read about these things.

7 College Football

Alabama's Crimson Tide vs. Miami's Hurricanes at the Miami Orange Bowl, a game postponed from last week. Alabama, already selected for the Sugar Bowl, is big, fast, deep and experienced. Watch for quarterback Joe Namath's (12) roll-out passes. Quarterback George Mira's (10) long aerials lead Miami's attack behind a big line. His top target is Nick Spinelli (20). Lindsey Nelson, Terry Brennan and Jim Simpson report.

11AM

4 Pro Football

SPECIAL: Boston Patriots vs. Chiefs at Kansas City's Municipal Stadium. The Patriots were surprised last month by the Chiefs, who held them to a 24-24 tie. Boston possesses a three-pronged attack-quarterback Babe Parilli's (15) passing, fullback Larry Garron's (40) running and Gino Cappelletti's (20) place-kicking. Their defense is the league's best. Kansas City has turned to quarterback Eddie Wilson (12) and elephantine backs of Jack Spikes (30) and Curtis McClinton (32) for more offensive punch. Wilson's favorite target is end Chris Burford (88). Curt Gowdy and Paul Christman report. [American Bandstand is preempted]

5 Junior Rose Bowl

The 18th annual Junior Rose Bowl Game is telecast from Pasadena, Cal. Orange Coast College, Costa Mesa, CA, plays Northeastern Oklahoma A&M of Miami, Okla. Undefeated Orange Coast is sparked by Bob Haynes (32), who scored 113 of the team's 309 points this season. Northeastern, also unbeaten, is led by hard-running fullback Carl Mosley (35). Chick Hearn and Bill Symes report.

[NFL Highlights and Captain Gallant will not be seen today.]

7 Pro Football

SPECIAL: Green Bay Packers vs. 49ers at San Francisco's Kezar Stadium. The Packers, still contending for the Western Conference title, grind out their vantage with a powerful and punishing ground attack. The return of quarterback Bart Starr (15) has steadied the offense. Key to the 49ers' attack is Lamar McHan's (17) passing to Bernie Casey (30), one of the league's fastest receivers. Another scoring threat is dazzling Abe Woodson (40), who this season has returned more kickoffs for more yards and more points (tying a league record) than anyone else. Bob Fouts, Ray Scott and Gordon Soltau report.

Thanks for posting this! Does anyone know which shows were pre-empted by baseball on WCAY?

I didn't get to Nashville as often in the late 80's, but in looking at WSMV's schedule it looks like they were as bad as WMC in Memphis about pre-empting a big part of NBC's schedule. But the stupidest move was pre-empting Johnny Carson. Even WMC didn't do that. Yet they still carried David Letterman on time, which WMC had always delayed by up to an hour. Over all it looks like WSMV was as bad or worse than WMC at that time.

WZTV was the Channel of Love in Nashville, picking up NBC shows that WSMV passed up.

What other television markets do you have access to?

Classic Television must always be preserved!

Re: RETRO: MILWAUKEE--4/29/1992

I would like Minneapolis-St. Paul listings from the 80s

if you could find them, but if not I would understand.

Classic Television must always be preserved!

Re: RETRO: MILWAUKEE--4/29/1992

Thanks for posting this! I was in high school during this time, and this was when I began taking an interest in television as a business.

- It's interesting looking at WTMJ's schedule then, compared to now. Channel 4's daytime schedule today is almost all news after NBC's gazillion hours of "Today." (News these days is programmed on WTMJ from noon to 1 p.m., 3 to 5:30 p.m. and 6 to 7 p.m., and if a snowflake falls from the sky -- as it did two days ago here in Brew City -- all bets are off!)

- Milwaukee, like many other cities, would endure an affiliate shake-up several years later from the New World deal. In late 1994, WITI (Channel 6) became a FOX affiliate, WCGV (Channel 24) would go to UPN a month later (when it was launched) and, in a move that would drastically bolster its presence, WDJT (Channel 58) joined the CBS family.

- Over the years, WDJT has changed drastically from its humble beginnings. (Programming, as one can see in this post, was a lot of shows passed on by network affiliates and public domain stuff.) Despite its changes, the channel has always been under the same ownership -- Weigel Broadcasting -- since its inception in 1988. Weigel today has become a pioneer with its ME-TV channels in Chicago and Milwaukee and its partnership with the This TV channel on digital subchannels. Speaking of Channel 58, I believe the 2 p.m. news was a feed from the All News Channel, a defunct, um, all news channel, that tried at the time to compete with CNN.

Wow. Now, that is a rarity. An actual, non-Fox, non-independent station airing the show - and at a visible viewing hour, no less. I guess Balki was big in Milwaukee, what can I say...

Does anyone remember that WCGV's Kids Club around this time was hosted by Amy (in safari costume) and Dudely The Dinosaur (or maybe he was a dragon? I don't quite remember)? I don't know why I remember that.

Syndicated bowling still going in '92. Not bad. 9PM news is a great thing. Chicago and Milwaukee are the only markets I'm aware of that really had it. Detroit had it very briefly when Independent WADL aired an INN produced newscast about eight years ago. Only lasted about three months.

Jim Simpson was at the Bills-Patriots game in Buffalo, while Lindsey Nelson was doing the Vikings-Bears showdown in Chicago.

I think Kojak was in its final season at this point. Can you imagine a title, "Has President let down the BLACKS (emp added)" today?!?

That Consumers thing at 1PM looks like an infomercial. Shocked these existed in 1977!

That was my first thought too, but Channel 2 is PBS. Why would an infomercial be on PBS?

Consumer Survival Kit was a program produced by Maryland Center for Public Broadcasting, now MPT (Maryland Public Television).

Okay, maybe sort of like a Consumers Digest type show. That makes more sense.

There's no listing for Channel 25!

I don't know why. The station signed on 1 month before this schedule: maybe wasn't included.

8PM

3 4c 7 12 15 Adam-12

On patrol with Los Angeles's finest: Jack Webb's blue knights begin a sixth season of crime fighting hot on the trail of a credit card forger, a tipsy seaman and an astrologically-influenced traffic violator. Joe Johnson: G.D. Spradlin. Officer Wells: Gary Crosby.

4o 6c 13 Love Thy Neighbor

Tentatively scheduled: make way for ego-tripping Charlie. He's convinced that he's turned into a lady's man-and one of the ladies is his neighbor Jackie. Charlie Wilson: Ron Masak. Jackie: Janet MacLachlan.

8 10 Sonny & Cher Comedy Hour

Howard Cosell and Chuck Connors help Sonny and Cher begin a third season of music and fast-paced comedy. Two beauties-Miss Universe Maria Margarita Moran and Miss USA Amanda Jones-add a little dazzle to the guest list. Bundles of blackouts were scheduled a press time, including routines on Watergate, sports and the caprices of fate.

9b 33 Narukami The Thunder God

Special: Intrigue, revenge, seduction and betrayal in this 300-year-old kabuki play about a monk's downfall at the hands of a beautiful woman. Of particular note to American audiences are the exaggerated emotions, stylized movements, bizarre make-up and special music characteristic of kabuki. Translated from the Japanese by director James Brandon. Taped from a stage presentation at the University of Hawaii by KHET, Honolulu.

9p Movie

'Rock Island Trail.' (1950) Thin story but plenty of action in this railroading saga. Reed: Forest Tucker. Constance: Adele Mara. Aleeta: Adrian Booth.

3 4c 6b 7 12 15 Movie

Special: Best Film of 1967-'In the Heat of the Night,' a crack whodunit set in the backwater South. Rod Steiger won an Oscar as the laconic, slow-moving police chief of a sleepy Mississippi town that is rocked by an industrialist's murder. To find the killer, he is forced to team up with an outsider (Sidney Poitier)-a visiting detective who is a Northerner, black, proud and sometimes contemptuous. An Oscar also went to Stirling Silliphant's script. Warren Oates, Lee Grant, Larry Gates.

4o 6c 13 Movie

What can you say about a movie that reminds you of 'Love Story?' That she's dying, he's distraught-and together they decide to turn the tide against the inevitable. 'She Lives!' is the season opener for ABC's Wednesday-night TV movies. Portions filmed in San Francisco. Desi Arnaz Jr., Season Hubley. Dr. Wellman: Anthony Zerbe.

9pm

8 10 Cannon

Heavyweight private eye Frank Cannon begins a third season of crime-solving with a real stumper. It's a two-hour episode about an old war buddy who's stuck in a small-town pokey. The charge: double murder. Locations include Grass Valley, Cal. William Conrad, David Janssen. Helen Blye: Anne Baxter. Dr. Binns: Royal Dano.

4c 13 News

10:30 AM on channels 8 and 10 should be The $10,000 Pyramid. It didn't go $20,000 until January 1976 (it was on ABC at that time, having moved in 1974).

Seems I remember the West Virginia edition being available in Southern Ohio (this would have been early 90s). That edition also listed KET (Kentucky Educational Television)

Another brain fart - thanks ccook55! I should have a Saturday or Sunday listing up soon. This came from the same eBay seller in Georgia who's been selling old '50s/'60s/'70s TVGs like hotcakes lately. This is my 4th 'Fall Preview' issue in my collection - the others are 1980 (North Dakota), 1986 (Kansas City) and 1996 (Puget Sound Cable).

If I win the auction, this woman is also selling a 1979 Fall Preview issue and the auction ends Tuesday night.

Also, anyone know what happened to the 'WNOW' cable-only indie in Parkersburg? Seems odd that TV Guide allowed their listings in a statewide edition. It was probably operated by their local cable system and NOT by WTAP. Now Parkersburg has Fox and CBS on low power digital stations in addition to NBC from WTAP.

I was in 7th grade living near Wheeling, WV at this time. Thanks for the memory!

Not a true statewide edition, as WDTV and WSTV (now WTOV) were missing despite the other station in each of their respective markets being listed

Please post listings for Saturday 9/8/1973 and Sunday 9/9/1973.

This was a year before 'GMA' debuted, so ABC still didn't have a competitor to 'Today'. That 'Police Surgeon' show has been airing on Antenna TV. The production values are not high, to say the least, but they did all right with the small budget they had. 'Adam 12' and 'Cannon' in prime time. Good times on TV!

Friday nights were still largely in CBS's favor then, as they are again now. Dallas was still successful and Miami Vice, at this point, had passed its popularity peak. ABC would debut their TGIF lineup the following season and had success with that for many years.

9&30 must've been airing different Sunday Masses. One ended in 30 mins, the other seems to have gone for an hour.

I'd imagine the Mass on Channel 30 was the daily Mass produced by the Archdiocese of Hartford that's aired on Hartford TV for many years. New York's diocese must have produced one of its own for Channel 9.

That would certainly explain it. Televised masses, except those on ETWN are generally 30 minutes, so it was just surprising to see one on broadcast TV that was a full hour.

The Hartford TV Masses are usually 30 minutes as well, but this was a Sunday, so perhaps that Mass ran longer. Not being Catholic, I've never watched them enough to know for sure if Sundays are different or not.

Army renews its fierce rivalry (begun in 1890) at John F. Kennedy Stadium in Philadelphia. Army leads the series 33-30-6. Army: The offense has sputtered on the way to a 3-5-1 mark, but the Cadets have a good ground attack featuring Lynn Moore. The passing is weak. Their defense is adequate, with fine work from the tackles, led by Joe Neuman. Navy: The offense's 1-8 record tells the story. The Midshipmen have tallied only 26 points over their last five games, though Mike McNallen is a good passer and Dan Pike a fair runner. Their defense is small. Allowed 45 points or more four times, but held Syracuse to 15 in last contest. Chris Schenkel and Bud Wilkinson report the action.

Time approximate. Penn State meets North Carolina State at Raleigh. Penn State: The offense revolves around a potent ground game featuring Charlie Pittman (24), Lydell Mitchell (23) and Franco Harris (34). The defense is the big reason Penn State's among the country's top teams. Linebackers Dennis Onkotz (35) and Jim Kates (55) are outstanding, and so are tackles Mike Reid (68) and Steve Smear (76). Like Penn State, N.C. State has a powerful running team. Charlie Bowers (30) and Leon Mason (25) lead the way. Their defense is forecast as a superior unit, but it has performed inconsistently. Leaders include tackle Ron Carpenter (70). Bill Flemming and Lee Grosscup report.

Time approximate. The 1969 Coaches All-America team is introduced, and game films show the players in action. Leading contenders on offense include runner Steve Owens (Oklahoma) and flanker Carlos Alvarez (Florida). The QB spot has several prime candidates, including Purdue's Mike Phipps and Ohio State's Rex Kern. Contenders on defense: tackles Mike Reid (Penn State) and Mike McCoy (Notre Dame), and linebacker-cornerback Jack Tatum (Ohio State).

[Not sure why KTVC wasn't listed, but I suspect they were running news.]

2 3 11 Andy Williams C

Guests: Bob Hope, James Garner (who spoofs those automotive 'answer men' in commercials), singers Dusty Springfield and Ray Stevens Corey. Highlights: 'With a Little Help from My Friends,' 'For Once in My Life,' 'Leaving on a Jet Plane,' 'Try a Little Tenderness,' 'More' (Andy), 'A Brand New Me' (Dusty).

6 7 12 Jackie Gleason C

Frances Langford plays the brain behind a computer-match service, as the Honeymooners breeze into the Windy City. Checking out their marriages via computer, it seems the Nortons make a perfect match-but Cupid somehow missed with the Kramdens! Alice: Sheila MacRae. Highlights: 'Clyde' (Frances), 'I'm in Love All Over Again' (Jackie).

6 12 My Three Sons C

Honeymooning in a quaint Mexican village, Steve and Barbara become the resident-albeit reluctant-marriage counselors. The town's a haven for very young marrieds, and the Douglasses are considered 'older and wiser.'

7 10 13 Lawrence Welk C

The singing group anticipates winter with 'Button Up Your Overcoat.' Other highlights: 'Let it Snow' (band); 'Edelweiss' (Norma Zimmer); 'Skater's Waltz' (Bobby Burgess, Cissy King).

8PM

2 3 11 Movie C

'Journey to Shiloh.' (1968) During the Civil War, seven young Texans leave home to join General Hood's Raiders in Richmond. En route, they receive an unexpected education in race prejudice and Southern 'justice,' and loose certainty of what they're fighting for. Buck Burnett: James Caan. Miller Nalls: Michael Sarrazin.

6 12 Green Acres C

Lisa fumes with jealousy as Oliver is idolized by a schoolgirl who heard his law lecture-and flipped! Eddie Albert, Eva Gabor.

8:30

6 7 12 Petticoat Junction C

The Shady Rest folks go camping, and Bobbie Jo decides it's the right occasion to promote amnesty between boyfriend Orrin and hostile Uncle Joe-but her plan doesn't quite work out that way. Edgar Buchanan.

10 13 Hollywood Palace C

Diahann Carroll presents Robert Culp (reading 'These Are the Times That Try Men's Souls' by 18th-century political essayist Thomas Paine), comics Godfrey Cambridge and John Byner, and Motown singer Stevie Wonder. Stevie sings 'Yester-Me, Yester-You, Yesterday.'

9PM

6 7 12 Mannix C

How and why would a hit-and-run victim disappear from the scene of the accident? Investigating the case, Mannix gets the first sinister lead: a Mafia murder contract was out on the victim before he was accidentally run down.

Thanks for the memories; by 2002 the then St. Petersburg Times (now the Tampa Bay Times) had already had starting downsizing their TV listings; they no longer listed ABC affiliate WWSB-Sarasota, which I always preferred as WWSB channel 40 did not pre-empt some ABC programs (mostly movies) which channel 28 did preempt. Also around this time, the Times TV magazine (used to be the TV/Radio Dial) stopped listing any mention of radio.

IIRC correctly the now defunct Tampa Tribune continued to carry listing for WWSB.

I also had forgotten that by 2002 WTOG Channel 40 had discontinued their excellent 10PM local news.

Also WUSF channel 16 threw in the towel and signed off the air for the final time in the fall of 2017, losing their actual channel to the spectrum auction and had no desire to continue to lose money, with some cable systems in the area not carrying them as well as the primary PBS affiliate WEDU; WEDU has scaled back some of their programs and have added some of what used to be on WUSF.

Thanks for this. Just one thing- STV 7.30 would be Coronation Street, not Screen. Very long running British soap.

Crazy to think that 30 years ago BBC 2 and Channel 4 had basically no shows until mid afternoon! Even STV closed down fairly early really. Feels like a very different world- and it was.

Hard to believe that the AZ Republic would publish a programming guide without PBS/KAET, without independent KUSK/KAZT among many others.....

Well, KAET was listed, but I normally wouldn't list PBS stations.

Why don't you then? You should either the full listings, or nothing at all.

I don't list PBS stations either normally.

Idiot! July 4th. in 1988 was on a Monday. You've got Saturday listings. You must mean 1998.

The title says Saturday, July 4, 1998.

Sorry about that! Please forgive me. I watched one of the World Cup Games while I was in Marshfield, and it rocked.

Where's Marshfield?

You were really out of line with your 'idiot' crack.

I'm surprised there was only a primetime 4th of July show on PBS. I guess NBC hadn't started airing the NYC Fireworks yet.

Nobody outside New York really knew about their fireworks show until the last decade or so (when CBS picked up the Boston display-which was running on A & E by the late '90s-, NBC got the rights to the Rockefeller Center show, which trounced Boston in the ratings).

I don't know why, but WCVB and KMBC were the only ABC stations owned by Hearst that aired The View during its early years. WISN and WTAE preempted it. WCVB aired it in an one-day delay at 9am and KMBC aired it at 11am.

4 Santa Barbara (despite WTVJ is an O&O station, wasn't airing the soaps in pattern)

A lot of the NBC O&Os aired Santa Barbara and then later Another World before Days of our Lives. I'm not sure what the strategy was because that put them in competition with shows like All My Children and the Young and the Restless plus didn't have Days for a lead in. Many non O&O stations aired Santa Barbara earlier in the morning with no other soap competition.

I checked the listings of other O&Os from the same day and WNBC aired Santa Barbara at noon. KNBC and WMAQ carried it at 2pm and WRC at 3pm. WRC moved it from 3pm to noon later that September. I'm not sure about KCNC in Denver, but IIRC, also aired Santa Barbara before AW and Days back then.

One of our area stations in Indianapolis on WTHR 13 had Another World at 10 and Days at 11 throughout the mid-90s and they said AW was #1 in the 10am time slot when NBC cancelled it. Passions aired at 10 after AW's cancellation. I believe Days was #1 or #2 at 11. Days remained at 11 until four or five years ago when they moved it to 1:00pm.

Did the soaps aired on a one-day delay?

No, after Santa Barbara's cancellation in 1993, I seem to recall that NBC provided early feeds of their shows to affiliates. It wasn't until after Santa Barbara's cancellation that WTHR moved Another World to the morning and shook up their daytime lineup against the ABC and CBS stations. CBS was very dominant back then and the ABC station in Indianapolis decided to air the ABC soaps on the Central schedule from 11:30-3:00pm Eastern which meant all the shows were on a one day delay during the Fall/Winter months when Indiana was with the Eastern time zone. Each Spring when the time changed, the ABC soaps would air on the weekend so they could catch up to air the Central time zone feed the following Monday. This continued until Indiana started changing time and they went back to the regular Eastern time zone schedule for everything.

10 Why Do We Work?

Special: In observance of Labor Day...the meaning of work from a religious standpoint is probed in this show (first aired last year). Has work gotten out of hand? Are we crating labor just for the sake of it? Protestant, Jewish and Catholic attitudes are discussed by representatives from each faith. Interspersed are films of Americans, from field hands to computer technicians.

Childhood: parties and festivals from Venezuela to Hong Kong. Adolescence: courtship rites in the U.S., France and Africa. Marriage: wedding ceremonies in Japan and Hawaii. Also: the pleasures of old age, including activities of senior citizens in Japan, Australia and Turkey.

8 10 Pro Football

Special: The Chicago Bears take on the Redskins in a pre-season clash in Washington. Chicago finished at the bottom of the NFC Central Division last year with a 4-9-1 mark. A passing attack that ranked dead last in the NFL was the Bears' downfall. But QB Bobby Douglass (10) compiled an impressive running statistic: 968 yards, an NFL record. Washington: They lost to Miami in the '73 Super Bowl, but the 'over the hill gang' may make it to the top this year. They've added Duane Thomas (47) to a backfield that's already explosive. RB Larry Brown (43) won the NFL MVP award; Charley Harraway (31) is a premiere blocking back, and Billy Kilmer (17) and Sonny Jurgensen (9) give depth at QB. The Skins were 4th in overall defense last year. Pat Summerall and Ray Scott report the action.

I wonder if the ABC stations having programming start at 3 minutes after the top or bottom of the hour was correct or just a misprint by the Blade?

I don't think it was a mistake; the theatrical version of "Dangerous Liaisons" (the 9pm ABC movie, and starring Michelle Pfeiffer, Glenn Close, and John Malkovich) originally ran two hours, and this movie was also R-rated. Unless ABC ran this movie unedited (which I doubt), there were probably at least 20 minutes of material edited out of this movie, just between sexual content and non-essential scenes to the storyline.

Request: Game Show Network schedules, December 1, 1994-December 31, 1998

Since I've been a huge game show fan since I was a kid, and since I like the old Game Show Network from December 1, 1994 (when Game Show Network launched) to December 31, 1998 (before "Who Wants To Be A Millionaire" with host Regis Philbin premiered on ABC in August of 1999), I'm looking for Game Show Network schedules from December 1, 1994 to December 31, 1998!

Thanks!

Sean

Memphis' Channel 30 (WMKW, now WLMT) had just launched a few days earlier, on April 18th.

Surprised that Benson was on this night. I thought it aired on Friday.

I'm surprised that WMC actually had 2 other game shows besides Wheel of Fortune (Dream House and Sale of the Century on a delay) instead of pre-empting them for another talk show. They definitely got worse as time went on.

Surprised that Benson was on this night. I thought it aired on Friday.

It could have been one of those special night deals that all of the networks had every once in a while back then.

And what's up with The Facts of Life at 5:30 in the morning? Were those 1-day delays of the NBC late morning reruns?

That's very likely. Later in the 80's and early 90's WMC went to running some of the daytime shows they had pre-empted in the late night/early AM once they started staying on all night. I also noticed they were actually carrying David Letterman on time. The delays of 30 minutes and later an hour didn't start until later. I also noticed this was when WREG still ran late movies from midnight until 3:30 AM with the CBS late night news for the rest of the early AM.

I like how WSB chose to keep Ryan's Hope at 12:30, never putting Loving there until after Ryan's Hope was cancelled as the replacement. They carried Loving in the show's early years but dropped it somewhere along the way.

Bugs Bunny got four separate timeslots on WATL? Either their scheduler was clueless or they were having real trouble competing with the cartoons on WGNX. Or both.

I wonder if the Bugs/Defenders/Bugs blocks in the morning and afternoon were identical or if different episodes were used in order to get kids into the WATL habit before and after school. Qualitywise, the block absolutely mopped the floor with the infantile Smurfs/He-Men/Transformers competition on WGNX, which would have posed a serious threat of permanent brain rot to anyone over 2 who might have tuned in.

I didn't even notice that they ran Defenders of the Earth twice. Thanks for pointing it out!

Our World was a genuinely good show that was doomed for being programmed against The Cosby Show. The syndicated show The Judge was more like a soap opera as opposed to a real courtroom show, but I remember liking it. Surprised this hasn't been played on one of the diginets.

It would be interesting to compare this with the ITV network schedule to see if the athletics were shown nationwide. At first I thought STV had pre-empted Coronation Street, almost unthinkable, but on checking realised the third weekly episode didn't start until October of that year.

Note also Take The High Road at six thirty, Scotland's very own soap opera. Some other ITV regions showed it in the afternoon, but only STV showed it in the early evening.

Interesting to see BBC1 on there but not ITV. ITV would have been the most popular TV channel in the UK at the time.

Also there would have been a local news bulletin on BBC1 at 19:30 Dutch time (six thirty PM in the UK)

It would be interesting to know which BBC region was shown, it would give a clue as to how they were getting the BBC 1 signal. Quite possibly they were picking it up off air on the Belgian coast. BBC1 did not appear on DTH satellite until later in the nineties.

That would be Newsroom South East or Look East. BBC1 and BBC2 were relayed by Belgacom from Calais to Belgian and Dutch cable companies. ITV Anglia and ITV TVS were available on cable systems in Belgium and in the west of the Netherlands. In Enschede and other cities in the East and South East there was more demand for the German commercial stations.

Later on in December 1991 DR TV and DFF Länderkette were replaced by BBC 2 and WDR Fernsehen.

I find it odd that the Lowell newspaper included 10 and 12 (but not 6) from Providence, considering Lowell is north of Boston

WLNE from Providence before 2009 had been forced to transmit from Tiverton, RI, because of co-channel separation needed from WRGB-TV in Schenectady, NY and WCSH-TV Portland, ME, (both on channel 6) and adjacent channel separation with WCVB-TV, on channel 5. Tiverton was about 17 miles south of Rehoboth, MA where channels 10, 12, and 64 transmit. WLNE's signal could not usually penetrate to Lowell, but WJAR (10) and WPRI (12) could, even though the signal was very snowy. Of course with the digital transition, and WLNE's transmitter now in Rehoboth, the signal is pretty much on par with the other stations, and there is no co-channel or adjacent channel interference now.

Thanks for the info. I like reading about the past history of broadcast stations.

The ITV series you have listed as "Casting Cough" throughout was actually called "The Casting Couch."
Transcription error on your part or was the paper actually wrong each time?

It was my mistake. Sorry about that.

I'm glad TV isn't nationalized here like it basically is in the UK.

I think this was the last day of the week with Constance McCashin (of "Knots Landing") and Edwin Newman, because the original last day (Friday, May 8) was pre-empted by Gary Hart announcing his withdrawal from the 1988 presidential campaign due to scandal (at least in the Eastern and Central time zones).

Surprised that 'Wheel' and 'Jeopardy' were competing head to head since King World syndicated both.

They weren't competing in the same market.

Please post listings for Saturday 5/9/1987 and Sunday 5/10/1987.

This was evidently after the time when WKBN stopped running movies in the afternoons and joined the CBS soap opera feed.

Did anyone in Youngstown actually watch Pittsburgh's Channel 22?

It did put out 5 million watts back then, but I'd think having a local station on 21 would make that nearly impossible.

Thanks for posting this. It is interesting seeing how Mountain Time Zone stations scheduled things because they had more schedule flexibility with network programs.

I can't believe that both KUTV and KSL had a full hour of news at noon. That is strange!

This was the common CBS schedule for Mountain Time Zone stations back then, but normally with Capitol at 12:30pm MT. As the World Turns was seen on a one day delay at 11:00am MT as the live CBS feed was at 11:30 MT and later 12:00 MT after 1987.

I was on the crew of the Gene Keady Show when I worked at WLFI, 1992-94.

That's really cool. I had forgotten until I posted the TV listings that they had a lot of local sports programs back then in Indiana as well as the lottery show Hoosier Millionaire. The local shows today seem to be continuous newscasts.

Were you attending Purdue at that time then?

No, never a Purdue student. We had a lot of them as employees and interns ((the ones from the hinterlands of Northwest Indiana would tell us they were "from Chicago".). I remember some late nights when Keady would get back after an out-of-town game and we'd roll tape around 1:30am. A courier would get copies for WTTV, South Bend and Fort Wayne and hand-deliver them.

the WWHO caption is actually

"WWHO 53 - UPN/WB/Pax Columbus"

I was about to wonder where the UPN affiliate was. I suspect the cable company there carried other Ohio channels. A lot of syndicated shows are missing.

WWHO was primary WB at the time, despite being owned by Viacom. UPN got pushed to the weekend.

Please post listings for Saturday 1/20/1990 and Sunday 1/21/1990.

Note WTHI's pre-emption of CBS This Morning with Sally Jessy Raphael and Geraldo

WTHI dropped the CBS Morning News (2 hour broadcast) in August 1985 and began airing talk shows in its place such as Sally Jessy Raphael, Donahue, Hour Magazine, and Geraldo, and then a few months later added a 7:00am newscast which was rare back then for a local station. The 7:00am news was pushed back to 6:30 in the Fall of 1990, when they added CBS This Morning at 7 and Regis & Kathie Lee at 9. I think it was on Labor Day 1990, because I can remember being home for the schedule change and remember it was the first time I'd seen Regis & Kathie Lee.

I'm guessing WTHI was one of the smaller (if not the smallest) CBS affiliate to completely dump the CBS morning show? I know a handful of bigger-market CBS affiliates dropped the show at certain times (most notably WWL, but also KDKA, and I think WAGA, etc.).

Probably so. I remember being a kid and they would cut out the CBS This Morning promos during network programming, but occasionally they would miss one and we'd get to see it. I wondered why they didn't show it. They also didn't show Face the Nation for several years and delayed CBS News Sunday Morning until 10:00am. They never carried CBS News Nightwatch. I'll try to post the weekend listings as someone requested them.

WHDH in Boston preempted CBS This Morning from February 1994 until January 1995. During that time, the program aired on independent station WABU (channel 68).

The incarnation of CBS This Morning after Kathleen Sullivan was replaced by Paula Zahn with Harry Smith as the other anchor was a really good show, in many ways as good, or better than Today or GMA. It just never caught traction because a lot of affiliates wouldn't carry it.

Yes I really liked the show with Harry and Paula. Paula had a great voice for morning TV.

Yes, WAGA did drop CBS's morning show sometime in 1992 in favor of their still-going local show Good Day Atlanta. The CBS show would get picked up by independent WTLK (today WPXA) then by WGNX (WGCL) when it became a CBS affiliate.

Maybe you're thinking: where's morning TV? It was slowly added during the early 2000s: now all five main channels broadcast 24 hours a day.

Thankfully, I was so little to remember that a long time ago Argentinian TV stations didn't sign on until 11am, noon or 1pm!

This is not a well understood way of operating, as US and Canadian stations have long populated the mornings with programming.

I have also had trouble explaining that "prime time" is not 6-10 AM and 3-7 PM as it is in the US; it's "la segunda mañana" from 9 to 12 and the early afternoon from 12 to 15. The reason being that far fewer persons listen in private cars given the high use of public transportation.

There's a reason why Pergolini was on from 9 to 12, not 6 to 9: more available listeners.

Yeah, but that's radio's primetime. Television's primetime is from 8PM-midnight here.

I almost forgot something: until the mid-2000s, the one and only Ibope (now Kantar Ibope Media) measured ratings from noon to midnight, and not from early morning to late night. So, that could be one of the causes of not having TV in all channels during the morning.

Check these listings:

Here, in 1994, three stations signed on at noon, one broadcasted the whole day and another signed on at 10am.

<https://www.radiodiscussions.com/showthread.php?p=1144>

11 years later, in 2005, 4 of the 5 main stations started before 11am, and only one did it after that.

Schedule request

If this isn't allowed, then feel free to delete this thread. Does anyone have any programming grids for the Richmond area from about 1994-2001. There are a lot already on here, but there are gaps that I'd like filled. Any help is appreciated.

I'll try to post some listings from The Free Lance-Star soon.

Okay. Thank you. If you are able to find any from the Richmond Times-Dispatch, that would work even better.

Double post I know but for those searching, make sure it's as complete as possible. A lot of listings just have the evening.

Amazing that the most watched channel (Telefe) only had 11 hours of programming on weekends. The satellite feed, however, filled the downtime with teleshopping and for a time they also had sport programmes at late night (again, only for the satellite feed).

Did KHJ have a weaker signal than the other LA stations at the time?

Probably not strong enough to get to the north fringes of the San Diego market. When our family lived out there in Escondido, we turned our antenna toward Los Angeles to see what would come in. It was a crap shoot. 2, 4, 5 and 7 came in but barely.

I suppose if you were closer to the coast you would have picked up most if not all the LA signals. I know full power FM stations from LA are quite strong near the water from Oceanside down to Del Mar.

When cable first came into use, I believe Northern San Diego County got all the major LA TV stations, while San Diego and its closer neighbors got independent channels 5 and 11, maybe 9 and 13. In fact, KTLA 5 was still on San Diego cable as recently as a few years ago, the last LA signal available. Maybe it's still there. Of course, San Diego now has so many of its own TV signals, as well as from Tijuana, that cable providers don't feel the need to include more than KTLA in the cable line up. KTLA does a surprising amount of local news, so that's why it may still be included since it's not duplicating much programming already available on San Diego stations.

By the way, KTTV 11 was one of the first TV stations to go almost 24/7. At 2:50 am, the listings show 11 with "All Night Show," while KNXT 2 is doing "Give Us This Day" just before its sign-off. The San Diego Union-Tribune probably doesn't want to list all the old movies 11 will be running, so it sums it up as "All Night Show."

I believe that KTTV Los Angeles and WCBS-TV 2 NYC were the only two stations broadcasting around the clock in 1963. A few stations in other cities would broadcast all night on Saturday night, a few on Friday and Saturday. And eventually KNXT 2 would match KTTV with all night programming, becoming the third station in America, maybe in the world, running nearly 24/7.

I say "nearly 24/7" because stations still had to do some transmitter maintenance in those days, every 24 hours. Both stations signed off each day for about 60 minutes, but staggered it. KNXT did it around 5:30 am so it could start the day around 6:30. KTTV did it around 6:30 am so it could sign on at 7:30. And when I say "sign off" I mean ran no real programming. They both often had a test pattern on, all that time, unless they had to totally shut down the transmitter.

NBC had already cancelled JAG and it was in summer reruns by this point. The next season, CBS picked it up and ran with it for nine more seasons.

By 1992 WSYX had dropped Channel 6 News branding name to 6 On Your Side News by fall of 1992. By 1993-1994 6 On your Side was branded, by 1995 it was just plain 6 News. I don't know if WSYX gave ABC clearance for Real Friends. When The View, took over in 1997. Reruns of Dr. Quinn was on at 11am in 1997. It wasn't until 1998 when The View moved from late night into 11am time slot. WSYX didn't show Mike & Maty either.

And I think A Current Affair was sandwich in at 5:30 pm.

The station went back and forth on having an evening newscast 30 minutes [either 5 pm or 5:30 pm] The station always had a 5:30 pm newscast but canceled it in 1988 in favor of Oprah/Geraldo. By 1992, the 5:30 pm news returned, and in late 1993 to 1994 they moved to 5 pm and then back to 5:30pm. I want to say by 1996, they moved the newscast to 5pm. It wasn't until 2002 they finally went an hour at 5pm while the other two stations had an hour long 5pm news.

As for WBNS at 10 am Inside Edition and American Journal would share that time slot, but American Journal was never an hour show.

WNEW / WNYW-TV in New York program schedules from 1978 to 2015

I was born in 1978 and i grew up watching WNEW / WNYW-TV alot especially when they became a Fox O&O station and started carrying WWF Wrestling from 1986 - 1996. Can anyone help me out with the schedule from April 5, 1978 to at least December 31, 2015?

Go to the library and check the Times' TV listings for that period.

Actually, WNYW bought WWOR in August 2001, and from after the events of 9/11, WWOR aired the Fox Kids weekday block until the network ended kids programming on weekdays.

thanks

Thank you. Someone can make a similar thread for WWOR and other NYC OTA TV's listings 1949-2015. I wondered why WNYW moved WWF Superstars from Noon (since September 1990) to 1pm (briefly in 1994-95)?

I see KYW was pre-empting 3 hours of NBC daytime programs at 10:00am, Noon, and 3:00pm. I had always read they pre-empted a lot of NBC programming which was why NBC wanted an O&O in the market.

On WPVI, there was no Benson at 11:00am, Family Feud, Edge of Night, or Nightline during this period. They wouldn't become an ABC O&O until 1986.

This was the final episode of Tattletales (12 Noon, ch. 2). Body Language would replace it Monday.

Good times. Dancin' on Air into Little House on the Prairie.

And Wheel of Fortune where we still have it today.

These two were flip-flopped on NJN's two Northern station. WNJM in Montclair and WNJB in New Brunswick ran NewJersey Nightly News at 6:30 and Dark Shadows at 7:00

And it was New Jersey Network. NJTV, a separate entity, didn't exist until 2011.

And, at 4:30 AM, it was Here's Lucy. I Love Lucy was on channel 5.

Sorry about that.

What did WPIX air at 6pm before the Jeffersons and after Little House on the Prairie?

It wasn't listed by at least two of the papers used here. I'll check another to find out.

I checked the Reading paper and nothing was listed at 6pm on WPIX. Maybe the station was airing two episodes of "Little House on the Prairie" comprised in a 90-minute format.

Could you post the listings for June 2 and 3, 1984, please.

They were airing mid-'50s prints from the C&C "MovieTime USA" package at 11pm in 1992. Unbelievable.

One of the two late-night movies had to come from the "Movie Greats Network," given WGBO's low-budget status at the time.

Do you have any listings for WMAQ of their regular daytime schedule later this week? This schedule has NBA Basketball on. I was curious if they actually aired Jenny Jones between Days of our Lives and Another World on a regular basis.

1:00 Baseball: Chicago White Sox vs. Chicago Cubs WGN 9 I know until the 1997 season there was no inter-league games in the regular season.

It was an exhibition game, as part of series of games the two would play each year between 1985 and 1997, with the White Sox going 10-0-2 against the Cubs.

Forgot about the Cubs-Sox in-season exhibition games. The Reds and Tigers did that for years, during the All-Star break (I think). It was called the Kid Gloves Game, and it raised money for youth baseball. Also, the Bulls-Cavs game was Game 4 of the East finals...Cleveland's last East finals appearance before The Era of Lebron.

The short lived WFL was on TV this summer night. Just before President Nixon resigned.

Nixon resigned a week before this listing, on August 9, 1974.

I didn't realize KDKA's pre-empting As the World Turns went back this far. It was the #1 soap in the 1960s and 1970s. I'm surprised they would pre-empt it over other CBS shows and kept lower rated soaps Love of Life and The Edge of Night.

Most of Pittsburgh could get ATWT on WSTV and/or WTAJ

I looked it up and didn't realize WSTV (now WTOV) is so close to Pittsburgh.

There once was WJNL-TV, Ch. 19 from Johnstown, but I think that station was only on the air in the evenings.

In an odd aversion, that station moved into Pittsburgh in the 1990s, but still serves Johnstown and Altoona (the Altoona-Johnstown market doesn't have its own CW affiliate)

Ah, "The Comedians". A rather odd and ironic title for a serious dramatic movie.

Re: Retro: Kentucky Saturday, November 18, 1978

"Past Prime Playhouse" with Bob Shreve on WKRC-TV, Channel 12 was one show where it can definitely be said viewers tuned in to see him and not the movies. Shreve previously did this show on other Cincinnati TV stations as well as Channel 7 in Dayton. Some may not be aware of it, but Shreve actually had a good singing voice. He sang on early TV programs and also once sang the National Anthem before a Reds game.

Re: Retro: Kentucky Saturday, November 18, 1978

Bob Shreve got some national exposure as a singer on Dotty Mack's ABC shows in the '50s (if you can call anything on ABC in those days "national"); another regular singer on her shows was Colin Male, who was host of "Divorce Court" in the late '60s/early '70s, when Voltaire Perkins was still the judge.

Re: Retro: Kentucky Saturday, November 18, 1978

I find it interesting that both NBC affiliates aired "Little Rascals"/"Our Gang" not only at the same time
(1:30 PM), but in fifteen-minute intervals, to boot. Kinda reminds me of that mean battle between two indies in Houston airing "Popeye" at the same time... ;D

Re: Retro: Kentucky Saturday, November 18, 1978

I think it's more coincidence than competition, since Louisville and Cincinnati are separate markets. Each "Our Gang" or "Little Rascals" episode runs about 15 minutes anyway, since they were originally made as movie shorts. BTW, you can tell the difference two ways: in the '70s MGM held the rights to the "Our Gang" title, and King World syndicated the older ones under the "Little Rascals" title. The "Our Gang"s, produced mostly in the early '40s, show Spanky and Alfalfa moving into their teen years, and there's a new character: Mickey Gubitosi, real name of an actor you know better as Robert Blake.

May I note that Bob Shreve could actually sing. Both Dotty Mack and Colin Male lip synced or pantomined records on the shows they were on. After going to California, Male also became the voice-over announcer for the opening of "The Andy Griffith Show". He even appeared in one of the episodes.

ABC also covered the game between Appalachian State and Western Carolina at 4:00; i assume it was only seen on WLOS in Asheville and maybe a few small Tennessee markets, while almost everyone else in the Carolinas saw USC-UCLA. Florida State-Navy was the 12:30 game, likely seen in the South.

ABC also covered the Florida A&M-Southern game too at 4:00.

My guess is the Appalachian State-Western Carolina game was only seen on WLOS; that way, the USC-UCLA game could be counted as a "regional" telecast, without breaking the NCAA's appearance rules.

My guess is that Florida A&M-Southern was seen on WECA (now WTXL) and WBRZ only ABC used to do that often- they'd bill a game as "regional" and air it only on one or 2 stations. That way the big game(in this case USC-UCLA) would air in most of the country. Same thing in 81 when a Appalachian State-Citadel game only aired on WLOS and maybe a few stations in the Upstate, was so that the Oklahoma-USC game could be aired in more of the country. Maybe the Appalachian State-Citadel game only aired on WLOS, while all other stations in NC aired Oklahoma-USC.

I do wonder who did the Appalachian State-Western Carolina game for ABC? i assume whoever was the sports director for WLOS in Asheville might have done it; if not then someone like Chris Lincoln or Bob Murphy.

I'm shocked the WSOP was covered was back then. I know it was part of CBS version of 'Wide World of Sports', but I assumed television coverage of this didn't commence until there were more sports specific networks than decent programming to fill them!

I didn't know the 'WSJ Report' was being syndicated this far back. Some pretty good movies on this date. 'Brass' was a rerun of a 1985 made for TV movie starring Carroll O'Connor and Scott Baio's brother Jimmy. It was supposed to be the pilot for a TV series, but that wasn't picked up.

I so suspect that the 5:30AM slot on Channel 69 was 'This Morning's Business'. There really wasn't another business related syndicated show then unless it was 'First Business'.

Check the size of the paper's grids: they're extremely small!

<https://i.imgur.com/iNbgmna.png>

I get it completely. When you put the question mark in there, I assumed it was because the grid only listed business or the title couldn't be discerned. I think you made a good guess.

NBC must not have had the NFL at this point. Either that or it was blacked out. The affiliate did play a few good movies though.

NBC's last year with Sunday afternoon NFL games was 1997. This week, CBS had the doubleheader.

I know their losing of the NFL was what led to them starting the XFL, I just thought it happened in the 1999-2000 time frame. Obviously I was incorrect.

I don't understand why most (if not all) of the CBS owned-and-operated stations aired NYPD Blue on Saturday nights after the late news. Most of these stations also aired Pensacola: Wings of Gold and Psi Factor: Chronicles of the Paranormal. Did CBS have an agreement with the distributors?

The O&O stations may have had a master agreement.

This date also fell during the brief period where CBS carried the PBA after ABC dropped it after many decades the year before.

Driving Miss Daisy on for 30 minutes?!

I believe this was a failed pilot for a TV show:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Hh-fsjg6Kks>

Street Justice was a great syndicated show with Carl Weathers. The 'New' WKRP was also on at this time. That WTTA was a dream station for some people.

I believe this was the week before Hurricane Andrew hit.

Street Justice (another Stephen Cannell series) also replaced 21 Jump Street in first-run syndication in fall 1991; 21 Jump Street's final season (its 5th) was in first-run syndication, with Holly Robinson (Peete) moving to the lead star role, after Johnny Depp left the series, at the same time Fox cancelled it. Street Justice would last only two seasons in syndication, and like Jump Street, this series also filmed in Vancouver.

I remember when ECO occupied much of XEW-TV's non-primetime schedule. But I didn't realize it ran from late night till 3:30pm the next day! It was mostly an all-news operation, although it could have a mariachi band come into the studio to play a song or two or a movie star might hawk his latest film. Notice that Jacobo Zabludovsky was the 10:30pm anchor. He was the lead anchor, the Walter Cronkite of Mexican TV. I believe it was his son Abraham who was an ECO anchor in the daytime. XEW-TV had a translator station in Tijuana which I could see from San Diego when I was vacationing there one summer week.

This was an era where Mexican TV stations only did happy news. No murders, no crime, no fires, no strikes, no poverty, no pollution. Only stories that were planned news events, ribbon cuttings, new school openings, conferences with men in suits. I guess the TV networks didn't want to upset the government. It also struck me that all the anchors were very European. No anchors were the color of most average Mexicans.

It is informative manipulation, where news programs do not want us to show the true reality of the country at a global level, that is why I do not follow the news of Televisa, nor of other channels

The era you speak of was the seven decade one-party rule of the PRI. Those stations owed their licenses to the Party.

Most of the leadership had mostly Spanish heritage; Mexico has had only one indigenous president and that was 160 years ago (and, arguably, he was the best president the country has ever had").

Televisa has long had anchors, soap opera stars and entertainers who don't look typically Mexican. In the case of dramatic shows, they explain that they syndicate to over 100 countries so they have to look "international". But that does not explain the comedies, news and other shows that are limited to Mexican and, perhaps, Central American and US audiences.

This was the time when the former independent stations that became UPN and WB affiliates started being homogenized even in dayparts when network programming wasn't on. Fewer movies or older series and the same syndicated reruns at about the same times in most markets.

Yeah, this particular time was also around the start of the proliferation of talk, court, and reality-type shows. Some stations, like some of the ones posted here, were still pretty rerun-heavy, but at this point, this is where most Fox stations (and a lesser extent, WB and UPN stations as well) began eschewing the usual traditional lineup of kids shows/sitcoms/dramas/news/game shows, etc. in favor of more news, and certainly more conflict talkers. This is also at the time that The Jerry Springer Show was arguably the most popular talk show out there, regardless of format.

$25,000 Family Challenge was likely a spinoff to The $25,000 Pyramid.

What was the $25,000 family challenge?

I tried to search online for this "$25,000 Family Challenge", to no avail...making an educated guess, it was likely one of those locally-produced shows that WSB likes to air in place of network programming on occasion.

I did the same. I hope someone would elaborate

I'd also guess it was a special related to the $25,000 pyramid. The only other reference to a game show by this name was for one in the mid 90s that didn't have the money figure associated with it.

Seeing the late night schedule on WTBS 17 (which we got nationally on Superstation TBS), I loved Night Tracks which aired on Friday nights all night long. I don't think our cable had MTV then, so I would always watch Night Tracks each week for music videos and sometimes recorded them on the VCR.

It was locally produced and aired and had no connection with The $25,000 Pyramid. It bumped ABC's Mr. Belvedere and Just The Ten Of Us, which Chattanooga's channel 9 aired. It was nominated for a Southeast division Emmy for Outstanding Achievement, Entertainment Series. (It lost to WXIA's Nugzar: Georgia to Georgia.)

Although the channel was not listed in the Rome News-Tribune, Atlanta's WVEU/channel 69 (now WUPA) carried the third half hour of ABC's Home show and CBS's Now You See It on a delay to 4 PM and 4:30 PM respectively.

Was it a game show?

More of a stunt show. As I recall, it was done on the campus of a local high school.

Not so long ago there were two movie review shows on weekly, the Ebert show and 'At The Movies' and now there are none. Even after Siskel and Ebert, 'At The Movies' was very enjoyable until it was removed from syndication.

3:00 Price is Right

Interesting schedule for a CBS owned station, airing Price is Right at 3:00 instead of 10:00 and then delaying the 9:00 hour to 10:00. I wonder if this schedule lasted long.

It lasted until 1986 or 1987, when Donahue moved to WFLD, and WBBM began airing the CBS daytime schedule in pattern.

'Square Pegs' and 'Archie Bunker's Place' had both been cancelled the month before and would disappear from prime time a few months later after the summer reruns.

WFLD, the flagship for Field Communications would see a lot of changes, along with the rest of the company's stations over the next few years. I'm surprised they picked up 'Lie Detector' here. This was the iteration hosted by F. Lee Bailey. I'm surprised because they didn't pick it up for WKBD in Detroit, another Field station, instead it aired on WXON. I know WKBD aired 'INN News' at least in 1981 and 1982, I don't know if carrying the syndicated version of 'CNN Headline News' was for all Field stations by this point.

The dreaded E/I had already done it's number on Saturday Mornings!

I don't understand why CBS News Saturday Morning was listed as an E/I program. It was a news magazine!

They may have tried that so they could meet the requirement and keep some of their traditional cartoons in place.

A minor question: is there any content difference between the broadcasts of This Old House on PBS stations and the broadcasts on affiliated stations? Was it the same program that aired on PBS without any changes?

Still a true independent (WABU) and before MLB basically left OTA TV except for a weekly game (that's gone now too) and big events. 'This Week in Baseball' returned in 1997 after a few year hiatus. It endured until about 2010 or so when Fox ended it. I still miss it.

Pretty good Christmas fare on WWAT. Delaware County did a pretty decent job of programming Channel 56!

This must have been before Fant picked up WWAT and they were run with WCMH.

WSFJ's COL is Newark, not Thornville.

And, there is no “s” in the titles Widget and Swans Crossing.

Well, I guess back in 1992, you would of have to take that up with The Dispatch. Just reporting what they had printed.

Retro TV Election Night Coverage

A companion to my earlier post on the Classic Radio board:

NBC, oddly enough, did not go with wall-to-wall Presidential election-night coverage on TV until 1960, when it did so starting at 7:30 P.M. EST (and in later years, starting at 7 EST).

In 1948 and 1952, NBC-TV coverage did not start until 9 EST (so Milton Berle could be seen), and in 1956, the coverage didn't start until 8:30 EST.

On the other hand, back then, few results may have been in that soon.

Re: Retro TV Election Night Coverage

...one tradition that was kinda fun was when NBC's Tom Pettit would make reports while at the bar at Serb Hall in Milwaukee. That was at least from 1964 to 1980. I suspect Rachel Maddow would like to revive that little tradition (if in fact she even knows about it) ;D ...

Re: Retro TV Election Night Coverage

Um...what about CBS (their first Presidential election night was in 1952 (Walter Cronkite would anchor every one until 1980) and their use of the UNIVAC computer)???

ABC had a very skeletal news department back then; 1956 or 1960 may have been their first election.

Moreover, what about the DuMont Network? It had a news department

Boy do I miss Walter Cronkite. :-\

Broadcasting is the equivalent to Bizzaro World.

Re: Retro TV Election Night Coverage

Just as a sidebar, the first presidential election coverage that was broadcast entirely in color on all three networks was in 1968. The first inauguration to be shown entirely in color was LBJ's in 1965, but only on NBC. NBC also showed the inaugural parade portion of JFK's inaugural in color back in 1961.

Unfortunately, the videotape of that 1961 broadcast was reused almost immediately, according to Reuven Frank.

Re: Retro TV Election Night Coverage

I was a little tyke then, but I thought the opening of NBC's 1964 Election Night coverage (which I believe I saw) had the animated peacock, and a voice-over saying that "Those portions of this NBC News Special Report originating from our New York Election Central and the Johnson and Goldwater Headquarters are in Living Color", which would mean that the studio segments and the remotes from the Johnson and Goldwater headquarters would have been in color, with other remote segments in black-and-white.

I do know that all three networks originated the studio portions (and some remote segments) of their 1966 midterm election coverage in color; however, I think NBC also did much of their 1964 Election

Night in color.

Correct me if I'm wrong.

Re: Retro TV Election Night Coverage

As for their election titles:

CBS started using "Campaign" in 1964 for every one except 1972.

Also in '72, NBC began using "Decision" for their elections; the Henry Mancini theme would follow from 1976-92.

ABC called theirs "The (insert year) Vote" from 1978-2002, followed by "Vote 2004" (2004), "Vote '08" (2008), and "Your Voice, Your Vote" (2012, which sounded stupid).

The electoral map came into play in 1976, with Republicans blue and Democrats red...well, at least according to NBC. But starting in 1980 and ABC's coverage, it would be the other way around (yellow for Independent candidate John Anderson) and by 1984, the other networks would follow suit.

ABC's 1980 election I believe was also the first to display their totals on LED, which were very, very new at the time.

Not as stupid as the Hearst stations' "Commitment [year]" which they've been using for several years. Commitment of what?!?

ixnay

I think they were meaning to make our commitment to vote.

Agreed. It still sounds corny to me though. But I admit "Choose Your Windbag" would've been far worse. : ;D

I never liked "The [Year] Vote" too much, either. OTOH ABC in 1976 used "Political Spirit of '76" in the Bicen year, which I liked. That same year, NBC's "Decision '76" logo was a play on the Bennington flag. Do a Wiki.

In 2000, the onscreen and on-set title was actually "ABC 2000 The Vote." However, the announcer still referred to it as "The 2000 Vote."

As I remember, these many decades later, that was when NBC declared JFK had won California and that state's electoral votes which put him over the top.

The earliest call ever was in 1980, when at 8:15 pm Eastern Time, the networks projected that Ronald Reagan will have won enough states to put him over the top against incumbent Jimmy Carter...while polls were still open in half of the country!!!!

KNBC Local Election Coverage 1972. Yes this includes Tom Brokaw as Local Los Angeles Anchor of the Channel 4 News. Tom Snyder and Jess Marlow are included in this newscast

And 4 years later, CBS made the call for Reagan over Mondale at 8:00PM, Followed by NBC and ABC within minutes.

I think you are unlikely to ever see that again, as certain changes (some technological, some sociological) have made exit polling wildly unstable and far less reliable.

Retro TV Guide skeds we'd like to see

Friends:

Here are some editions of TV Guide from the classic era of the 1960s and 1970s that I have yet to see any schedules recently posted on here. If any of you have one or more of them, share them with us! They include:

Arkansas (Little Rock, Shreveport, La.)

Central California (Fresno, Bakersfield)

Central Pennsylvania (Scranton/Wilkes Barre, Harrisburg)

Colorado (statewide, not just Denver)

Eastern Illinois (Champaign, Decatur, Springfield)

Eastern New York State (Albany, Binghamton, Syracuse)

Illinois-Wisconsin (Rockford, Madison, Chicago, Milwaukee)

Nevada (Las Vegas, Reno)

North Texas (Dallas/Fort Worth, Wichita Falls, Waco)

Northern California (Bay area northward)

San Diego

South Florida (Miami, Fort Lauderdale)

Again, we're looking for 1960-1980 only, after the "golden age" but before the advent of cable and deregulation.

In the meantime, I'll take a look at my inventory and let people know what I have, and arrange to post them over a one-to-two-year period. How does that sound?

Do you have any Minneapolis-St. Paul editions from the 1970s or 1980s?

Classic Television must always be preserved!

I'd sure like to see anything from Chicago in the 60s.

I would like to make a request for all the fine, fine people who post these fun-to-read retro schedules:

If you are willing, please indicate which shows were indicated "in color". This, of course, applies to only the era when TV Guide & newspapers had to indicate when a show was in color, and B & W was the norm.

I know the original symbol for color was (cc), indicating "compatible color". Then it went to just one "c" bullet on a black background. So, just a simple (c) next to the show listing would do.

But it would be really neat to know! Thanks!

Yes, and I only remember seeing the black bullet for (c) - but I only started to have interest in TV Guide in 1968 or 1969 (when I was old enough to read and comprehend it). By then, most listed shows were followed by the (c) and the (BW) came soon thereafter. The (cc) must have gone away long before then.

Re: Retro TV Guide skeds we'd like to see

Earlier on, In the 1950's up till 1968, TV Guide denoted color programs with a small rectangle with the word COLOR in capital letters, they did the same with returning shows and new shows using RETURN and DEBUT in the rectangles..

"Compatible Color" I think had to do with the RCA/NBC Color system which was "compatible" or could be played on black and white sets (In B&W of course) whereas the CBS Color system would not play on then-current TV sets. Once RCA won the color tv battle by the Mid 1950's , the term "compatible color" became redundant..

Network programs aside (everything in color by the 66-67 season), imagine being the "third" station in your market--probably the ABC affiliate--and seeing the other two stations' late news (11/10pm) shown in TV Guide with the COLOR rectangle, while your newscast's listing lacks it.

One or both of the competition may be doing its COLOR-branded show with only one TK-41, but doesn't it make you feel inferior?

I dont know about that but certain ABC shows (Jetsons, Flintstones) were broadcast in Color, but WEWS-Channel 5 Cleveland was the only one of the NE Ohio ABC affiliates that showed some ABC shows in color (Though local News, etc..was still Black and White,,) 33 and 49 in Youngtown and Akron would note after these listings "Channels 33 and 49 do not colorcast"

Eastern Illinois (Champaign, Decatur, Springfield)

Illinois-Wisconsin (Rockford, Madison, Chicago, Milwaukee)

I would also like to see more Western Illinois (Davenport/Rock Island/Moline, Peoria/Bloomington, Quincy/Hannibal, Kirksville/Ottumwa, Springfield) edition listings. I don't think old TVG's are at my local public library, although Springfield city proper got the Eastern IL edition. Now Peoria was another case for two reasons--I recall seeing old Western Illinois edition TV Guides at the main branch of the Peoria Public Library circa 1995.

Although many classic TVG websites listed the Eastern Illinois edition as the "home edition" for the Peoria/Bloomington market stations, subscribers and businesses selling TVG in Peoria city proper (and all of Peoria County--which even to this digital day can also receive Grade B signals from the Quad Cities network affiliates) always received the Western Illinois edition. Even in Tazewell County (which had some viewers able to also pick up signals from Decatur and Champaign/Urbana in addition to Peoria and Springfield), I only saw the Western Illinois edition on sale there (but the Eastern IL edition was available southwest of Tazewell County in Mason County--county seat Havana). Further muddying the waters was that since its 1999 sign-on until local listings were discontinued in 2005, Peoria UPN (now MY) station WAOE-59 was NEVER listed in the Eastern Illinois edition, but was available in the Western IL edition since shortly after its sign-on. But I'm sure Bloomington and McLean County got the Eastern Illinois edition--so IMO both the Western and Eastern IL editions served as "home" for the Peoria/Bloomington market channels (perhaps the Western IL edition more so).

The funny thing is that last local TV station I can remember seeing in TV Guide who was still airing their local programs in wonderful B&W was Salisbury, MD's WBOC-TV channel 16...pretty much a CBS station (yes I do know that back then WBOC did air shows from NBC and ABC too but for the most part, they were CBS). That was in 1975 but sometime that year WBOC had finally made the switch to color. Baltimore's WBFF channel 45, as late as 1974 were still airing at least some of their local programs in B&W but WBFF back then was an indie..and a cheap indie at that though they sure made it up in signal coverage.

Even though unreated to this, I can remember seeing some local CABLE shows that was still done in black & white well into the mid 1980's !!!!

In Chicago the first stations to telecast in color were WGN-TV and the NBC owned which was WNBQ.

It wasn't until several years after those stations were already in color before WBBM-TV and WBKB (ABC) had shows in color.

I have seen promos online for WBKB from 1966, maybe it was 1967 (circle seven and all) and they were still in black & white. Catchy jingle though !!!

"...channel 7....W..B..K..B...in Chicago !!!"

In New York, WRCA-TV (later WNBC-TV) broadcast some shows in color (and that's just local), but a good many of them were still B&W. But among the indies, WOR-TV began airing color films on their Million Dollar Movie beginning in 1960, and around 1963 or so started airing Mets games and some studio-based shows in color. WABC-TV began showing movies in color (and that's their locally-originated movie shows, now) in 1964, and the first color feature films on WCBS-TV's The Late Show were aired in early 1966 (I.I.N.M., after Feb. 26 of that year; however, their occasional Award Theatre ran some color films a bit before that).

WGN's New York sister station, WPIX, didn't start going color until 1965, and from what I've seen WNEW-TV was the last of the three indies to start airing in color, in 1966.

WGN's sister station Denver KWGN went color the same year..1965. I have NO idea when the other Denver stations at the time like KOA (KCNC), KLZ (KMGH) and KBTB went color however in the case of KBTB (now KUSA), in the 1969 John Forsythe/Shirley Jones drama "The Happy Ending" that was filmed in Denver there is a brief scene of a taxi cab with an ad on the back that said "9 on 9...in color KBTB Denver", that tells me that KBTB had gone color at least by late 1968/early 1969 when the movie was filmed. I assume by that time KOA and KLZ had went color as well.

In Washington DC...this gets interesting and perhaps may raise questions. For years I had always thought it was WRC-TV who had went color first in that market. But according to Maury Povich in 1985 during WTTG's 40th Anniversary special, he shows a clip from some local talk show WTTG had aired way back (I need to find that tape one of these days to find out the name of the show) where the host claimed that

HIS show on WTTG was the first local TV show that was produced and broadcast in color. However I have seen a tape of WRC from 1959 (the one where someone presses the button to switch from B&W to Color and near him was none other than President Eisenhower) so did this "color" show from WTTG aired before WRC's say 1958?

One station that had local shows in B&W for a while was WCMC-TV(now WMGM-TV), the original Ch. 40 in Wildwood, NJ(at the Jersey Shore). I remember that station was listed in my local TV Guide(Philadelphia) since the early 1970's. It wasn't until about 1981(after it became WAAT) when it became a full color station.

I'd like to see the listings of the Michigan State Edition of TV Guide from March, 1959 until 1979 when the edition was broken up and made into the Southern Michigan and Northern Michigan Editions. Also Northern California from 1976-1999.

WGN's New York sister station, WPIX, didn't start going color until 1965, and from what I've seen WNEW-TV was the last of the three indies to start airing in color, in 1966.

I assume by that time KOA and KLZ had went color as well.

WGN-TV had the news & some local programming in color in the late 50s & very early 60s.

Don't think I have any NoCals from the period (my copy's from early 60s), but you're in luck with Mich State...I've got a few of them in the archives, and I'll post some listings from them in the next few days

How about anything from the South Carolina edition. I have only seen maybe two schedules from that edition, and they were recent (1994 and 1996). I don't care what year, I just want to see what the schedules were for the stations around our area.

Denver from the 1950's and early 60's !!!

I used to have a 1959 Denver edition of TV Guide but sadly it was thrown out by accident back in 1995. I do remember seeing those listings back then where that Denver's channel 2 was airing at least 70% local programming during the week and that channel 7 KLZ was very much into TV wrestling. The best one was the ad I remember seeing for some special that KOA-TV 4 was airing about how all the new homes in Littleton, Colorado are built in a way to protect you from fallout with the tag....

"..KOA-TV....the television station for you in the atomic age". Classic !!!!

The 1967 Broadcasting Yearbook (thanks Old Gringo!), which probably closed for press in mid- to late 1966, has KLZ-TV color capability listed as "net, slides, live, film, tape," whereas KBTB and KOA-TV were only "net, slides, film, tape" (no live).

The '68 book adds KBTB to the live color standard, but not KOA-TV. Ditto for '69.

It's pretty common knowledge to us old-timers (as opposed to "you younger posters") that these yearbooks were rampant with errors, glitches and omissions, however in the Taishoffs' defense, the data could only be as good as what the stations submitted.

Save AM radio...kill I-CRAP.

But, in all fairness, color gear was very expensive back then...and if you were an ABC affiliate, or God forbid, an independent, and barely making payroll, you had to think long and hard before spending the (then) megabucks to do local origination in color. Lots of guys were doing well just to have the equipment to pass network color, and nothing more. Granted, competition finally made color mandatory, and as we got into the 70s, there were very few operators still running in monochrome. But still, in the early 60s, it was very tough to do financially.

The other thing in the early 1960s was, only one maker of any color equipment of consequence (RCA), and the resentment among certain broadcasters over such dominance. It wasn't until Philips came forth with the Norelco 3-Plumbicon PC-60 (and its successors, the PC-70/PC-72/PC-70S-2/PC-70S-3), combined with competing products such as Marconi's Mark VII and General Electric's PE-250/350/400 cameras (and in the case of GE, PE-24/240/245 film chains), that the tide began to turn in terms of stations with color capacity. Certainly Norelco's camera was a trigger for CBS to finally commit to color starting in '65.

Does anyone have TV Listings from December of 1984 in the Providence Boston area at all?? Or not sure if anyone had old newspapers that show the listings before 1984 or not back then Channel 64 call letters were WSTG they called it The Great Entertainer before they became Fox 64 when it went to WNAC I think in 1986 or 1987. But I thought 64 came on the air back in 1981 or 1982 for a few hours a day but the regular TV Guide didnt add them until December of 84. I vaguely remember I think they played The 3

Stooges cartoon old movies like A Star is Born, Wally Gator Lippy the Lion etc. I want to say when they first came on the air they air maybe 4 or 5 hours of programming in the mid to late afternoon to 8 or 9PM. I remember switching through the channels that's on how I found it one day. If anyone has any listings of this I will be very happy to find out what they showed at the time. I have a few editions in 1985 I got on ebay that was the Worcester or Providence Editions but a lot of them are from NY or LA that they sell on ebay be nice to see more Rhode Island or Massachusetts Editions. I try google searches but no luck I remembered calling 64 a few years ago and asked if they kept a record of all the shows that they aired over the years and they said no. I was surprised by this I would think they would be log somewhere to have for the channels history but I guess not.

Yes, I remember when they went on the air in 1981. For a few years in the afternoon they also showed some older religious themed movies. The signal was pretty powerful; at that time I was living about 5 miles north of Boston and received the station over the air with only rabbit ear antennas and it gave a decent signal comparable with Providence's channels 10 and 12. The station was transmitting from Rehoboth, MA (where it still is) with 5 million watts.

I did a Wikipedia search it was in the fall of 1982 that they still on the air for the 19 hours a day. Just surprised that TV Guide didn't add them until the end of 1984 or 1985. I missed these days too much news on during the day in my opinion and too many talk shows etc. So much better when news was just a hour or so in the evening same in the morning too. I know it's a different time then it was a few decades ago.
